DANGER IN DISTRICT GROWS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NAPLES, 11:94 a. m.—There has been a considerable diminution in the fall of red volcanic sand since midnight.

Ottajano is enveloped in black smoke. The troops are clearing the ruins, demolishing tottering buildings and re-estaablishing communication. Entire families perished in the town and terrible scenes occurred when refugees returned in search of missing relatives whose bodies are unrecognizable. Search is being made of the houses where 50 corpses have been found. It is believed there are still many to be recovered.

All the bodies of those who were killed in the church at San Giuseppe on Monday have been recovered, the number being 105.

The cemetery at San Guiseppe presents a tragic spectacle, people vainly searching there for missing relatives among the heaps of dead. Sudden showers of hot ashes cause precipitate flight from the locality.

Signor Matteucci, the director of the observatory on Mount Vesuvious states that new small craters and fissures which have opened at several points, are likely to contribute to a diminution of the eruption, as they afford necessary outlets.

The ashes and cinders which fill the air are causing much trouble, many persons in the worst affected districts being threatened with blindness.

Another Day of Tragedy.

NAPLES, April 10.—The volcano is resuming activity, especially at Cercola. The stream of lava which started anew in the direction of Torre Annunziata reached the cemetery of that town and then turned in the direction of Pompeii.

The troops are conveying provisions, surgical accessories and material to be used for the relief of the injured in the vicinity of Ottajano. The work of rescue is being actively prosecuted. A violent storm of sulphurous rain occurred today at San Guiseppe, Vesuviana and Sarlano.

When morning broke today the outlook was promising for an amelioration of the conditions consequent upon the activity of Mt. Vesuvius. The hopefuiness of the populace of Naples, however, was short-lived, and the Neapolitans were plunged into a condition bordering on frenzy by the collapse of the Mt. Oliveto market, which covered a plot of ground 600 feet square, the structure falling upon 200 or more persons, of whom 12 were killed, two mortally injured, 24 seriously and 100 less seriously injured. Several of the dead were crushed and mangled beyond recognition. The scenes in the vicinity of the ruins were agonizing.

The number of fatalities caused by the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius reported in the last few hours has increased alarmingly. Over 500 deaths are known to have occurred, and when the full story is written, if it ever is, this number is likely to be much larger.

Fully 500,000 persons have been driven from their homes.

Fate Seemed More Hopeless.

While early in the day the volcanic activity of Mt. Vesuvius appeared to have diminished, as night approached the prospect of immediate relief faded and the fate of the villages and towns grouped around the volcano seemed more hopeless. Instead of decreasing the fall of sand and ashes emitted from the crater increased. Even with the sun shining in the heavens the light was a dim yellow, in the midst of which the few people who remained in the stricken towns, their clothing, hair and beards covered with ashes, moved about in the awful stillness of desolation like gray ghosts.

The case of Torre del Greco is typical. For 30 hours the place has been practically deserted, but amid the ruins and a semi-darkness illuminated from time to time by vivid flashes of lightning, a few of the inhabitants go about hungry and with throats parched with smoke and dust, seemingly unable to tear themselves away from the ruins of what so recently were their homes. Communication by rail or tramway with Torre del Greco and Torre Annunziata is impossible, owing to the cinder, sand and ash deposits. Railway travel to and from Naples is much hampered by the same conditions and collisions today resulted in the injury of about 12 passengers. Telegraphic communication with the towns farthest in the danger zone is interrupted.

SANT AGNELLO, BAY OF NAPLES, April 10.—The present eruption of Vesuvius is one of the most terrible on record. For some time the volcano has been unusually active, and last week the outbreak began which has now done incalculable damage.

An enormous volume of black smoke rises to a height of two miles above the crater. Incandescent masses of stone are thrown up 3,000 feet. A continuous southeasterly wind carried the ashes over Naples, which is so completely enveloped in darkness that for three days our communications by sea have been cut off.

Steamers and large sail boats trying to reach Naples find themselves in total darkness several miles from shore and turn back, numbers of persons having fainted from the sulphurous fumes.

Fissures have opened far below the cone, emitting many streams of lava, one of which has completely destroyed the town of Boscotrecase, which had 10,000 inhabitants. Another has reached the outskirts of Torre Del Greco. Others have destroyed thousands of acres of fertile cultivated land, with farmhouses and stock.

Great Cone Collapsed.

The great cone of Vesuvius collapsed with thundering and flames and the cable railway, the observatory, and the large new hotel near it were all totally destroyed on the night of April 7. The population of Boscotrecase and other ruined places fled in time to Naples, and the roads were choked day and night with every sort of vehicle and crowds of people on foot.

Yesterday (Monday) I drove through Terra Dell'Annunziata to the point where the main stream of lava stopped on Sunday. The lava carried vast masses of burned stone and sulphur on its surface like dross on melted lead, and nothing was visible toward Boscotrecase but endless acres of dark scoriae, broken here and there by the greenish curling smoke of sulphur.

At the point we reached a great stone pine tree, torn up by its roots and turned to black charcoal, stuck out of the mass at a sharp angle. The air was almost unbreathable, the heat intense. The faces of the people who crowded upon the edge of the arrested stream expressed present terror or exhaustion from recent panic.

The government has done what was possible to help the homeless people, and the large bodies of troops sent to the rescue have behaved with great energy and courage in saving property. When the stream of fire threatened Boscotrecase soldiers dug a wide ditch across its path and threw up a formidable intrenchment in the hope of diverting its course, but every effort was useless.

Like Serpent of Fire.

The molten stone advanced like a colossal sedpent of fire, turning its head to the right and left as a snake does, but keeping its general direction toward the fated town. It was not till it reached the first house, sending up great showers of sparks, that the people finally fled for their lives, taking such belongings as they could carry in their arms or pile upon the creaking carts.

I saw men, women and children and infants whose mothers carried them at the breast or in their aprons; dogs, too, and cats were on the carts, and sometimes even chickens tied together by the legs, and piles of mattresses and pillows and shapeless bundles of clothes, all white with dust under the lurid glare.

I saw one woman lying on her back across a cart, ghastly white, and if not dead already of fear and heat and suffocation, certainly almost gone. We ourselves could hardly breathe.

Happily there has been little loss of life as yet, for lava moves slowly, even in great quantities and down hill. On the other hand, the damage done is permanent, and the rich vinelands on the southern slope of Vesuvius are lost forever and buried under lava and scoriae. The whole effect is appalling in the extreme.

Near the volcano and in Naples itself there have been frequent shocks of earthquake, and the city was in continual darkness on Sunday and has been subject to the fall of ashes ever since April 6.

Driven to Verge of Madness.

Constant news of fresh destruction and the inexplicable impression that the volcano itself is mysteriously moving toward the city have driven the excited people to the verge of madness and the extreme of terror.

At the moment of writing, in Sorrento at 2 p. m., I can see nothing of Naples or Vesuvius or even of Ischia, 30 miles to the west of the volcano, for all is hidden by a lurid curtain that is not affected by the fresh easterly breeze. The ashes are a fine dark gray dust and are thick in my garden walks, on the terrace, and on all the plants. Even at a distance of 60 yards there is a slight film in the air.

The wind being steadily off shore, the sea is quite calm, and the noises from the volcano reach us very distinctly.

During the most terrible hours on Saturday and Sunday we heard a continuous roar like that from a battle of artillery. And even now peals of thunder roll across

SICKNESS KEEPS THOUSAND PUPILS OUT OF SCHOOLS

Typhoid Fever Is Blamed for Much of the Falling Off in Attendance.

Typhoid fever and its effects were presented to the Central board of education in an unmistakable manner last evening. City Superintendent Samuel Andrews reported a decrease of 732 in the enrollment for last month as compared with March, 1905, and a decrease of 576 in average attendance. As the city is constantly growing, it shows that over 1,000 children are kept at home by sickness. The superintendant thought unfiltered water had much to do with the sickness of pupils, and suggested that the members present the matter to the local boards, particularly where schools are not supplied with filters. Dr. W. H. McKelvey said little headway could be made against typhoid until the city's filtration plant is finished. He said the children are at school only a few hours each day and drink more water at home than at school. He admitted some good might be done with filters in schools. Mr. Jamison said 80 per cent of the children kept out of school by sickness have measles and not typhoid fever.

The Central board has no authority over local schools, but the High school committee was instructed to equip the High schools with filters.

Over 700 typhoid fever patients are in the hospitals of the two cities. Thirty-eight new cases were reported in Pittsburgh yesterday, as follows: Sixth ward, 1; Eighth, 1; Eleventh, 3; Twelfth, 1; Thirteenth, 8; Fourteenth, 4; Sixteenth, 2; Seventeenth, 2; Nineteenth, 2; Twentieth, 2; Twenty-first, 5, Twenty-second, 1; Twenty-third, 2; Twenty-seventh, 1; Thirty-first, 1; Thirty-second, 1; Thirty-fifth, 1.

STUDENTS MUST NOT REFER TO TAINTED MONEY

University of Chicago Faculty Taboos Song Prepared for College Play.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 10.—Money—yes, money. Strange as it may seem; Tainted or sainted, just so it's green. Money—yes, money . . . was ever so. At the Midway varsity they take the dough.

The above stanza and others bearing sentiments ridiculing University of Chicago professors and the relations of the Midway school with John D. Rockefeller have stirred trouble for the student authors of "The Passing of Raxes," the annual comic opera to the University Blackfriars club, to be given at Mandel hall next month.

They were written as lyries for a song entitled "Money," to be sung at the Blackfriars' celebration, but have so aroused the wrath of the faculty they are likely to be omitted.

One of the stanzas mentions Mr. Rockefeller by name, and intimates that the professors accommodate their teachings to the oil magnate's orders. The playwrights were informed today they would probably have to omit all reference to Rockefeller, tainted money, and franks. They declare, however, that the song will be sung, faculty or no faculty.

KILLS HIMSELF, FEARING BOOKS ARE INCORRECT

Laboring under the delusion that his books were incorrect, despite the assurance of an expert that they were flawless, Daniel N. Herwig, aged 45, secretary-treasurer of the D. L. Clark Candy and the Voucher Cigar Companies, both in McKeesport, blew out his brains yesterday afternoon.

For months Herwig has insisted that the Clark company's books were incorrect, until his brother, to convince him of his error, employed an expert, who found the books perfect. Herwig was not convinced. He was finally persuaded to resign from the Clark company to take a long vacation trip. Herwig went to the offices of the firm in Fifth avenue, McKeesport, yesterday afternoon to arrange his papers and accounts for his successor. He slipped into a room on the second floor, and was found dead at 8 o'clock with a bullet hole just above the right ear.

Herwig left three letters, written just before he shot himself. They were rambling and expressed a fear that, in spite of assurances to the contrary, his accounts were defective and he might be arrested if he should leave McKeesport. Daniel G. Donovan, who succeeds Mr. Herwig as secretary-treasurer of the Clark company, says the books are in perfect order.

EXPLODING DYNAMITE MANGLES FIVE MEN

Were Standing Over Hole When Blasting Charge Goes Off Prematurely in Their Faces.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BUTLER, PA., April 10.—Five men were badly hurt by the premature explosion of a blast while at work excavating on the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad at Unity this afternoon. There are reports that several others were killed but the rumor is unauthenticated. The injured men were brought to the Butler county General hospital on a Bessemer & Lake Erie train at 5 o'clock this evening. They are:

Joseph Fleming, aged 61, boss of the gang; John Pila, a Slav, aged 44; Michael Brosman, Slav, aged 23; Bruno Moribitto, aged 43; Aurego Sunsot, aged 23. All live at North Bessemer.

The faces of the injured men were mangled until scarcely recognizable. Brosman's left cheek was blown off. All have broken arms and hands and their eyes are filled with particles of sand and rock.

The explosion occurred while the men were standing about a hole in a rock in which they were placing a charge of dynamite. It is believed that while forcing the charge to its place enough force was used to explode it.

ITALIAN COUNT DROPS DEAD.

Eruption of Mount Vesuvius Hastens the End of the Chicago Consul General.

CHICAGO, ILL., April 10.—(Special.)—Count Anthony L. Rozwadowski, for the last 12 years Italian consul general in Chicago, died suddenly of heart failure this morning.

He had been overwhelmed with work, owing to the anxiety of Chicago Italians to get official news concerning the fate of relatives in the neighborhood of Mt. Vesuvius, and it is believed this extra exertion had something to do with hastening his death. It had been known for some time he had heart disease.

HEAVEN IS HER HOME; DO NO HOUSEWORK HERE

Mrs. Johnson States Her Position, and Courts Says They Have No Jurisdiction.

Heaven being her home, Mrs. Leslie J. Johnson said she had no time to care for the habitation occupied by her family on this earth, according to the allegations of her husband, who asked for a divorce on this account. Unfortunately for Johnson, the superior court yesterday agreed with the lower court that Mrs. Johnson had carried the matter out of their jurisdiction and the divorce was refused.

He claimed cruel and barbarous treatment, but the courts say religious fervor does not come under this head according to the act of assembly. Mrs. Johnson's confidence in the righteousness of her position was shown by the fact that she was not represented by counsel in either the lower or the superior courts.

Johnson says when his wife became so wrapped up in her religious work that she neglected her family, he told her it would break up the home. To this she replied, he says, that her home was in heaven.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(Special.)—George Bernhardt says he is a loving husband, but he'll be this and that if he'll kiss mother-in-law twice a day. The sad story came out in today's court. "How is it," asked the judge, "that after living five months at your mother-in-law's home, you're so firmly resolved to live elsewhere?"

"Why, that's easy your honor," George replied. "I ain't got anything on the old lady. But say—on the level—what'd you do yourself? My wife says to me the other morning, it'll be a nice thing if I'll kiss her mother when I'm going away in the morning and kiss her again when I come back at night. She stuck to it and I skiddooed. That's all there is to it."

DOWIE STOPS AT ZION'S PORTALS

Self-Styled "First Apostle" Loses Nerve at Chicago—Postpones Visit Until Friday.

CONFERS WITH LEGAL TALENT

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 10.—Dr. John Alexander Dowie will not advance on the "hosts of Zion" as suddenly as he expected. Tonight, after a long consultation with his legal adviser, Dowie announced it might be several days before he saw fit to enter the city he founded.

"The first apostle" arrived in Chicago this morning. An immense crowd was at the station to greet the self-styled "Elijah III." He was in the best of spirits and health, and before leaving the car cracked jokes with the reporters gathered about him.

Escorted by a number of loyal followers he made his way to the end of the train and stepped to the station platform. The moment the crowd caught a glimpse of the man he was greeted with an assortment of welcomes ranging from the reverent "peace be with you" of the Zionists" to the more jocular "Good boy, Dowie," of the members of the curious.

The crush was so great the police protection provided proved inadequate and the members of the Zion guards who were protecting their leader had to fight vigorously to get him to the carriage awaiting him.

Attempt to Serve Paper.

Just before he reached the vehicle a man sprang past his bodyguard and waved a legal document in Dowie's face, but before a further move could be made the Zion guards threw him over a nearby railing. It was afterward learned the man was a deputy sheriff who was endeavoring to serve Dowie with a summons in a civil suit in which a medical expert claimed that fees to the extent of $500 had been due him for several years. The incident seemed to disturb Dowie but very little and he was assisted into a carriage and driven to the Auditorium Annex.

After a short rest, Dowie summoned his legal advisers and a conference ensued which lasted the greater part of the evening. Just what means will be taken to reinstate "the first apostle" in Zion City were not definitely stated, but Dowie did say most emphatically there would be no compromise with Voliva, and Dr. John Alexander Dowie must be the leader of Zion or nothing at all.

Hold Meeting in Zion City.

The same determination on the part of Dowie's opponents at Zion City was manifested tonight when at a conference of the business committee of 12 appointed by Voliva some time ago, it was decided to send to all branches of the church throughout the world not to send any more money for Mexican land warrants. This was done to block Dowie's scheme to secure more funds.

In a statement issued today Overseer Voliva said that Dowie had not gone on to Zion City because he desired to avoid the humiliation of having no one to meet him. Voliva says the leaders of the church will attempt no bodily harm, but there are people who might wish to injure the erstwhile leader. It is claimed if Dowie will submit to the inevitable he will be nursed and cared for by the officers of the church. There was no commotion in Zion City today.

OPERATORS HAVE NEW PROPOSITION

MINERS' ANSWER THURSDAY

NEW YORK, April 10.—The anthracite operators at their conference with the mine workers here today declined the proposition to have the conciliation board arbitrate all grievances submitted by the wage workers and made a counter proposal that the commission appointed by President Roosevelt in 1902 be requested to decide whether any changes in conditions in the hard coal regions have occurred which require that the award of the commission should be modified. The mine owners limit the inquiry to two grievances—wages and a method for the adjustment of complaints.

The miners have taken the proposal under consideration and may give the operators an answer on Thursday, when another conference between the subcommittees of the two parties will be held. In the meantime the miners' committee of 26 will hold sessions and agree on a reply, and the operators will remain idle awaiting developments.

George F. Baer made public a letter sent to the committee by the independent operators in which they express their firm conviction that any "agreement to arbitrate with the United Mine Workers will be an unjustifiable surrender to anarchy and mob violence."

Still Hope for Peace.

Notwithstanding the fact that both parties to the controversy are now committed to arbitration they are still far apart, but confidence is expressed on all sides that a peaceful settlement will be brought about. There is every indication that the counter arbitration plan will not be accepted by the miners as presented although they view with favor the operators' selection of the anthracite strike commission. The old tribunal will be accepted by President Mitchell if he can induce the coal companies to widen the scope of the submission to be made.

The scale committee of the employes was in session tonight and, while nothing was given out for publication, it is known the sentiment was for either amending the operators' plan so far as it relates to the questions to be taken up or for standing on their own arbitration offer with the strike commission substituted for the conciliation board. The endeavor of the operators to eliminate all the miners' grievances with the exception of those of wages and the adjustment of complaints was a keen disappointment to the representatives of the men and if their attitude can be taken as an indication of their action they will fight hard to have some of their other demands taken up, such as an eight hour day, the weighing of coal and the checkoff. If the scale committee cannot come to an agreement with the operators it is not unlikely that a convention of miners will be called to further instruct the committee.

The meeting today was very brief and it later was announced that another meeting would be held on Thursday.

Could Reduce Present Wages.

President Mitchell asked in the conference today whether under the proposed plan the anthracite operators would have the privilege of asking the commission to reduce present wages and he was informed by one of the coal presidents that they had. In reply to another question he was told that if the operators' plan is accepted, the first offer of the coal companies to renew and continue for three years the award of the strike commission would collapse.

The members of the commission are Judge George Gray, United States circuit court, Wilmington, Del.; Col. Carroll D. Wright, former U. S. commissioner of labor and now president of Clark college, Worcester, Mass.; Brig. Gen. John M. Wilson, retired, U. S. A., Washington; Bishop John L. Spalding, Peoria, Ill.; Edgar E. Clark, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, grand chief of the Order of Railway Conductors; Thomas H. Watkins, Scranton, Pa., formerly an anthracite coal operator, but now a large producer of soft coal in central Pennsylvania; Edward W. Parker, expert statistician, Washington.

If the strike commission is called to settle the dispute it is not probable that Bishop Spalding will be able to serve as he is said to have just passed through a serious illness.

STRIKERS AT PENN ARE ENJOINED BY JUDGE DOTY

Edna Trespass Injunction is Made Permanent and More Miners Return to Work.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 10.—Upon the petition of Superintendent T. Frank Wolff of the Penn Gas Coal Company, Judge Doty granted a preliminary injunction against over 50 of the striking miners at Penn, enjoining them from interfering with or hindering the men now at work. In his petition Wolff states the mine has been operated in part by men who have been secured to take the places of the strikers and they have been intimidated and at times restrained from going to work. It is asserted that the offenders are officers and members of the Penn branch of the United Mine Workers of America.

The writs were served this afternoon by Sheriff Seanor. A hearing for a permanent injunction is set for April 13. Judge Doty this afternoon made permanent the injunction applied for by the Pittsburgh & Baltimore Coal Company to restrain the striking miners at the Edna No. 2 plants from trespassing on company property. No opposition developed to granting a permanent injunction, the bottom having fallen out of the strike.

An increased number of men were back at work this morning and it is expected that both plants will be running to their full capacity before the end of the week.

STRIKERS START QUARREL.

Trouble at Valley Stone Company Mines Does Not Continue After Police Arrive.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., April 10.—(Special.)—The difficulties of the striking miners at the operations of the Valley Stone and Coal Company, near this city, reached a critical stage today when a small number of the men returned to work.

On the return of the men from the mines 250 of the strikers were gathered near the mouth of the mine. This force started to raise a disturbance by calling the men who had been at work "scabs," etc., with the result that the latter retaliated. A call for police was sent to the city headquarters and a number of officers dispatched to the scene. The arrival of the police smoothed all difficulties.

NOBODY COULD EXPLAIN; ORDINANCES ARE HELD UP

As nobody seemed to know anything about two ordinances authorizing the city controller to pay a lot of money to the North Side Coal and Sand Company, they were referred to the city solicitor and the director of public works by the public works committee of Allegheny council last night. The ordinances direct the payment of $1,642 03, interest on the final estimate of $14,090, from November 1, 1903, to October 5, 1905, for the grading, paving and curbing of Preble avenue; also the payment of $4,343 for extra work done in Wabash avenue.

Advance Tin Plate Prices.

The American Sheet and Tin Plate Company has ordered an advance of 10 cents a box on tin plate, making the new price $3 60 a box in Pittsburgh for 100-pound coke plates, 14x20 inches. Trade conditions are reported as being excellent, with 218 of the 262 tin plate mills of the company in operation. Scarcity of steel prevents operations at all plants.

Afraid of Big Knife.

PEKIN, April 10.—The people in many towns are rebuilding the ancient walls for protection against the pillaging bandits of the Big Knife society, a relic of Boxerism. Troops have been sent from Hankow.

LURID GLARE OVER FLEEING MULTITUDE

the bay from time to time, not caused by electricity, but by the discharge of masses of molten material from the cone.

We confidently hope, however, that the worst of the eruption is over, and the panic is certainly subsiding. The admirable conduct of the king and queen and of the duke of Oosta in visiting the scene of destruction and suffering have done much to encourage and cheer the poor, and the royal family have been royally generous with money.

The homeless remember, however, that in previous eruptions the lava has been known to break out again and again for weeks, and the possibility of danger is therefore not yet past.

BELCHES NEW STREAMS

volvanic ejecta in the Vesuvian communes has been enormous. It is feared that the weight of ashes on roofs will cause the collapse of many more buildings both here and in the towns and villages nearer the volcano.

Director Matteucci, who continues at his post in the observatory, telegraphed tonight that the volcano was generally calm last night with occasional sharp explosions, these becoming more violent toward morning. Director Matteucci says his seismic instruments indicate great subterranean agitation.

King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena have forwarded to Premier Sonnino, who is here, $20,000 to be applied toward the relief of the sufferers by the volcano.

Pope Pius X. has telegraphed $10,000 to Cardinal Prisco, at Naples, which he is personally distributing among the needy.

The prefect has removed the mayor of San Guissepe from office because in the face of danger he left his village without informing his superiors.

Cardinal Prisco, archbishop of Naples, who today visited the people wounded by the fall of the Mt. Oliveto market, brought to these unfortunates the benediction of the pope.

The troops on duty in the volcanic zone are utilizing the railway carriages at different localities as camp hospitals. The Red Cross society has established a hospital in the vicinity of San Guissepe.

The number of dead taken from the church at San Guissepe which collapsed yesterday while a congregation of about 200 persons were attending mass, is 26. There were 75 severely injured. The ruined houses have also been searched, resulting in the discovery of 40 corpses. Many of these victims were old persons, who apparently had not the strength to flee.

Must Clear Ashes From Roofs.

Finance Minister Salandra, accompanied by a party of officials went today by automobiles to Portici, Resina and Torre del Grieco on a tour of inspection. Progress was greatly hindered by the ashes. The minister called on the inhabitants of the towns visited to co-operate with the troops in clearing the ashes from the roofs of houses in order to prevent their fall.

The minister next proceeded to Torre Annunziata, where normal conditions are being resumed. Afterward Scafati, Terzigno and Pompeii were visited. An attempt to reach the ash covered town of Ottajano was unsuccessful owing to the impossible condition of the roads. The lava in the vicinity of Boscotrecase has formed a species of lake. The party returned to Toore Annanziata amid a heavy fall of ashes. A large number of the inhabitants of that place are leaving it. The minister and his party were unable to return to Naples overland and proceeded to Castellammare on board a tug. Navigation is very dangerous because of the flying ashes.

ROME, April 10.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena returned here today from Naples. They were everywhere acclaimed for their sympathetic activity in behalf of the sufferers from the eruption of Vesuvius.

President Roosevelt Sends Condolence.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The President has sent by cable a message of condolence to the king of Italy upon the havoc and loss of life resulting from the eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

PASSENGERS ATTEMPT TO LYNCH A BAD NEGRO

Alabama Girl Is Victim of Brutal Attack While Riding in a New York Elevated Train.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 10.—Infuriated by a brutal assault by a negro tonight on Miss Isabel Oliver, a resident of Alabama, passengers on a Ninth avenue elevated train made a desperate attempt to lynch the negro, who was only rescued when a policeman fought his way into the car and held the crowd at bay with his revolver.

Miss Oliver was holding to a strap in the center of the car when the negro lurched against her, and on her requesting him to be more careful, struck her in the face, spliting her nose, blacking her eyes and knocking her down. Fifty men rushed on the negro, shouting: "Lynch him." The negro managed to defend himself until a policeman boarded the car and dragged his prisoner out.

The negro was taken to the station house, followed by a mob of several hundred men. In the station house Miss Oliver sprang at the prisoner and attempted to stab him with a hat pin, but was held and disarmed by a policeman.

MUTUAL SUES FIELDS.

Effort Is Made to Recover Money Paid Out by Legislative Agent of Insurance Company.

NEW YORK, April 10.—In an effort to recover money while pased through the hands of Andrew C. Fields, legislative agent for the Mutual Life, the company today brought suit against him. His counsel, H. P. Volte, accepted service in his behalf, and soon afterward appeared in the supreme court. It is understood John B. Stanchfield will be associated with Mr. Volte in the defense of the action, which is for an accounting and restitution.

The understanding is that the complaint not only will demand an accounting of the disbursements made by Fields as legislative agent but that it will also demand an accounting of all moneys expended by him as superintendent of the supplies department.

His subject was "Physiographic Ecology of Presque Isle," and the lecture was illustrated with lantern slides and numerous botanical and mineral specimens. Mr. Jennings gave a full history of the island since 1790, when it was a part of the main land, until through various changes caused by wind and waves, it became cape and peninsula and finally became entirely separated from the mainland as an island.

CITY TO PROVIDE DENTISTRY.

Cleveland Provides for Another Benefaction for Its Poor—Health to Be Improved.

CLEVELAND, O., April 10.—(Special.)—This city will add dentistry to the benefaction it gives the poor. Within a fortnight a dental chair will be established in connection with the outdoor relief work of the infirmary. The city will buy all the material and equipment and the work will be furnished by the Cleveland Dental association.

The 1,500 children whose parents receive aid from the city will be those entitled to this treatment. The reason given for this innovation is that the digestion and consequently the health of the children will be improved by good teeth.

FINES OIL MAN IN QUICK TIME.

Agent for Standard Company Is Held for Violating Law Regarding Gasoline.

MIDDLETOWN, CONN., April 10.—(Special.)—A jury in the superior court today brought in a verdict of guilty against John Boylan, local representative of the Standard Oil Company, for selling kerosene oil whose flash point was below the standard required by statute. Judge Case's charge occupied about six minutes and the verdict was returned in 30 minutes, a record of this county.

Frank D. Haines, state's attorney, told the court that the state regarded Mr. Boylan as an involuntary violator of the law, and as the case was tried to test the statute he would suggest that the minimum term in jail or a small fine be imposed. Judge Case gave the minimum of 40 days in jail and $25 fine. An appeal was taken.

ENGINE TURNS A FLIP-FLOP.

Big Locomotive Completes a Circle and Lands Squarely on Its Wheels.

POTTSVILLE, PA., April 10.—(Special.)—The locomotive drawing the express train between Philadelphia and Pottsville plunged down a 15-foot embankment from the Pennsylvania to the bed of the Reading when it struck a landslide near Port Clinton last night. In its flight down the bank the locomotive turned a complete circle.

For an instant the wheels were high in the air, with Engineer Hoffmeister and Fireman Weismiller at the bottom. Then the big engine completed the turn and landed squarely on its wheels. How the men were prevented from being crushed to death is a mystery.

VICIOUS ATTACK OF A RAT MADE UPON A WOMAN

LONDON, ONT., April 10.—While waiting for a train in the Grand Trunk railway waiting room yesterday, a woman was attacked by a large rat. The rodent sprang on her lap, and when she attempted to knock it off, the animal seized her by her lower lip and apparently could not free itself, until a bystander seized it by the throat and forced it to let go. The woman's lip was badly torn and the bosom of her dress was torn to shreds.

CABINET CRISIS IS COMING SOON

Premier Witte's Attempt to Force Czar's Hand Are to Have Affect.

LOAN DELAYS THE CHANGE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 10.—Rumors of a complete reorganization of the cabinet are everywhere current tonight. Many well informed persons believe that the fight between Premier Witte and Interior Minister Durnovo will result in the retirement of both, but that no change will take place until the pending loan negotiations have been concluded.

Finance Minister Shipoff and Minister of Commerce Fedoroff also are said to be slated to go. M. Yermoloff, former minister of agriculture, who holds extremely liberal views, is regarded as the most likely to be appointed as Count Witte's successor in the premiership.

In the midst of these sensational reports of a complete smashup of the Witte cabinet the Rusakoe Gosudarstvo, the official organ, strikes a very menacing note in a remarkable article entitled "At the Rubicon," laying the onus of the attempts to prevent the convocation of the national parliament on the revolutionists and appealing to the representatives to come together, not as extremists, but in a sober, constructive spirit.

In this case, the article says, reforms may be accomplished, as the parliament will not be gagged; but the warning is given that "a discordant tone will spoil the music" and lead to the dissolution of the parliament.

Repression a Necessity.

The article, adverting to the recent assassination of the governor of Tver, holds that that event constitutes a justification for continued repression "not as a governmental caprice, but as a hard necessity."

The result of the elections has precipitated the crisis and the immediate downfall of Premier Witte or Interior Minister Durnovo or both seems absolutely confirmed.

The former spent over two hours with the emperor last night reviewing the situation and pointing out how impossible it would be for the government to defend itself before a hostile parliament with M. Durnovo in the cabinet. The emperor, as usual in such a crisis, is vacillating.

Irrespective of his personal feelings toward the premier he decides Count Witte to remain in power while he hesitates to dismiss Durnovo. When he praises as having saved Russia from a revolution, Gen. Trepoff and Gen. Count Ignatieff, the most prominent of the reactionary courtiers, are constantly singing Durnovo's praises. As showing how strained are the relations between the premier and the interior minister, it is pointed out that M. Durnovo has not attended a cabinet meeting for almost a month.

Witte Has Been Clever.

Count Witte has cleverly seized the moment to force an issue between himself and his rival when in addition to the verdict of the people at the polls against the government's repressive policy the question of the big foreign loan hangs in the balance. Count Witte realizes fully that much of the confidence in Russian solvency among financiers abroad is due to the fact that he is at the helm and that if he goes the chances of the loan will vanish into thin air.

An aide-de-camp of the emperor, belonging to the anti-Witte coterie at court, said today:

"The emperor is hypnotized with the idea that Witte alone is capable of securing a loan abroad. For this reason if for no other he does not dare to allow him to depart."

GORKY CONSIDERS WITTE DISHONEST SCOUNDREL

Russian Novelist and Revolutionist Reaches America and Talks of Need of Force.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 10.—"Witte is too big a subject to talk about just now. But he is devoid of talent, power and honesty and in our opinion he is a scoundrel."

Surrounded by his friends, many of whom are political exiles themselves, Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist, made this statement in his cabin on board the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which arrived in port this evening after a rough passage.

Gorky, who was registered in the passenger list under his real name of Peshkoff, was accompanied by his wife and a secretary, Mr. Bousenine. He is a man of 38, about five feet six inches tall. His hair and his mustache are light, his eyes are blue and his nose sharp. He wore a long black overcoat over his Russian blouse, high around his neck.

The Kaiser Wilhelm was boarded at quarantine by a large deputation of Russians representing many different political parties. Chief among these was Gorky's adopted son, who came to this country a year ago. Among the others were Ivan Narodny, whose real name is Sybal, the exiled leader of the military revolutionary party; Abraham Cahan, representing the Bund, the Jewish revolutionary society; H. C. Wilshire and Morris Hillquit, representing the American Social-Democratic parties, and Dr. Maxim Roma, a Russian Social-Democrat.

No Liberty Through Elections.

Gorky, who talked in Russian, with the aid of an interpreter, gave to the newspaper men a statement, in the course of which, in addition to the sentence already quoted, he said concerning present conditions in Russia:

"I do not believe in the douma, nor in the present method of holding elections. The elections have no connection whatever with the liberation of the people. The Social-Democrats are not taking part in the elections as a party, though a great many have been elected individually. In Moscow alone the workmen elected 47 of their class to the secondary electoral college. That the douma will bring Russia quiet and prosperity I do not believe. The actual condition of the revolution in Russia is this: In more than 22 provinces the people are starving to death, using all the money they have and receive to buy arms with."

Here somebody interrupted him and asked whether he thought that the revolution could succeed without arms. Gorky smiled broadly and said: "You know from historical precedents that it is impossible.

"As to the attitude of the church toward the revolution," he continued, "it is a very interesting one, considering the people's hate and distrust of the church. In the present revolution the country priests are actually the leaders of the peasantry. If the revolution should succeed Russia will go the way America went—that is a federation. We have so many nationalities in our large empire that a federation of the different separate nations would be the best solution. What will become of the czar in that case?—well, I suppose nothing. One of the most important men in the recent course of events was Witte.

Republic Will Not Hurt Jews.

"The Jews will not suffer in case Russia should become a republic. I consider them a most valuable race for our country. Russia needs them and they should be given an opportunity. But the future will not be won without the use of force, and unfortunately our fight will have to be fought from behind barricades."

Then when asked what he intended to do in this country Gorky expressed his wish to be useful to his fatherland on the American continent.

"My next work," he said, "will be an autobiography, but at present I am not concerned with literature. I don't intend to speak in public here. In fact, I am no orator, but I expect to give readings from manuscripts, describing incidents during the Jewish riots and the revolution in the Baltic provinces."

Tomorrow night a dinner will be given in honor of Gorky. Besides his Russian friends, many Americans are expected to attend and one of the principal guests will be Mark Twain.

Before he returns it is expected Gorky will travel all over the United States.

MARRIED A BOY AND REGRETS IT

Olive Logan, Noted Woman, Prosecutes Husband 20 Years Younger Than Herself.

PROVES COMMON DRUNKARD

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, April 10.

Once a distinguished actress, authoress and lecturer, and the friend of emperors, presidents and statesmen, Mrs. Olive Logan, 67 years old, feeble from lack of food, almost totally deaf, and clad in a threadbare costume of the fashion of a quarter of a century ago, tottered to the bridge of the Harlem police court today and in quavering tones asked Magistrate Cornell for a summons for her husband, James O'Neill Logan, who is 22 years her junior, and whom she reared from boyhood, on charges of habitual drunkenness and non-support.

As Logan, stupid and sodden from drink, was led away, the eyes of his aged wife followed him; then her head drooped, and she murmured audibly: "The first 10 years of our married life were a dream of happiness. I love him still, and I know he loves me. Drink has caused it all."

Olive Logan, when little more than a girl, was married to Henry A. De Lille, then well known as a writer in New York, London and Paris. De L'lle aided Napoleon III. in a confidential capacity. He and his wife were divorced.

Mrs. Logan then married William Wirt Sykes, United States consul to Cardiff, Wales, who died in London in 1883.

While she was in London doing literary work and acting as art critic and musical correspondent for several prominent American newspapers, her present husband, O'Neill, was her office boy. When he grew older she made him her secretary. When she decided to return to this country they found that they loved each other, despite the disparity in their ages, and they were married in London in 1892. She was then 53 years old and he 31. By means of a royal grant he adopted her name.

When the late Augustin Daly was at the height of his success as a theatrical manager Olive Logan was one of his proteges. For him she wrote a comedy called "Surf," or "Life at Long Branch," which he produced with great success in the early seventies. She also dramatized Wilkie Collins' novel, "Armadale" and translations of Francois Coppee's "Le Passant."

Dizzy Spells

That dizzy spell is an important message from the heart—a plea for help.

If this message receives no attention others come: shortness of breath, palpitation, weak or fainting spells, smothering or choking sensations, pains around the heart, in side or shoulders, and so on, until it receives the necessary help, or is compelled to give up—stop. You may furnish this aid with which cures heart disease in every stage.

Every day we read of sudden deaths from heart disease, yet it is a fact that the heart had been pleading for help, and gave up the struggle only when it had exhausted the last spark of vitality.

"I was taken down with heart trouble and dropsy, and my family doctor said there was no chance for me. I sat up three months to keep from smothering. A trial bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure helped me, and I got 5 bottles, which entirely cured me."

WESTERN INSURANCE

OLD GAME WELL-WORKED NETS A FINANCIER $66

Stranger Sends Boy to Hotel With a Package With a Bill for Miscellaneous Wearing Apparel and Awakening Follows.

Although money ruled scarce enough in New York yesterday to command 20 per cent on the stock exchange, a shrewd financier loomed up in these parts yesterday who succeeded in making a hurried long-time loan on much better terms. The Hotel Schenley was the party of the second part.

Early in the afternoon an errand boy in the employ of McFarland Bros., an East End dry goods store, was hailed by a strange man about one block from the hotel, who asked him to deliver a package to the hotel and collect $66. The package purported to come from a downtown men's furnishing store and was accompanied by a correctly added bill calling for $66 for a miscellaneous lot of collars, ties, shirts and other wearing apparel, which the inviting package was supposed to contain. The boy went on his errand and the bill was promptly paid at the hotel. Returning, the boy delivered the $66 to the stranger, who, in a spirit of kindness and as a reward for his honesty, presented the boy with 50 cents.

It is reported that the package was valueless and the police are now seeking the acquaintanceship of the mysterious stranger.

SEEKING DEAD MOTHER, CHILD WANDERS AFAR

Little One's Mamma Is Beyond the Skies, and He Wants Her, He Says.

While seeking his dead mother, a 3-year-old Italian boy was picked up yesterday by Policeman Kiley at Center and South Highland avenues. His hair was the color of the raven's wings and his eyes bright as stars. Policeman Kiley found him and stilled his cries while the little fellow told him his mama was in the skies and he wanted to go to her.

The big officer took the child in his arms, and, after soothing him, had him sent to the Frankstown avenue station. The police officials at the station house quieted the fears of the baby and in a little while he was playing with the station house dog. The desk sergeant, who is a married man, carried the little fellow into the stable connected with the station house and placed him on the back of one of the patrol horses. When the child left the stable the horses appeared to resent his being taken away, as they comenced to neigh, as if for him. As the officers reported pennies were showered on him and when the child's stepmother called at the station house to take the waif home he was a regular copper mine.

OUSTED FISH DEALERS ASK FOR INJUNCTIONS

Want Restraining Order Against City Officials—No Law Regulating the Leases.

The two fish dealers who were ousted from stands in the Diamond market on Saturday by order of Director Clark, approved by Mayor Guthrie, yesterday applied to court for injunctions against the city of Pittsburgh and its officers. The application for injunctions are made in the names of Charles L. Kephart for the Pittsburgh Fish Company, and Max Levinson for the Levinson Fish and Oyster Company. Kephart is alleged to be acting merely as manager for Max and Abraham Levinson, who have another stand in the market. Kephart and Levinson state they were ejected by order of Director Clark, but still hold legal possession of the stands by virtue of a lease for four years signed by former Director Bigelow.

Mayor Guthrie said yesterday there is no law in existence providing for the leasing of market stands, the present method being the outgrowth of the system in vogue when councils authorized the market clerk or constable to collect the rents daily and later, when the market committee of councils regulated the renting of the stands. He said the action of the clerks in extending the rentals for a week or month, and later for a quarter of a year, grew until the charter of 1887 was adopted. Since then the market leases have been handled by the department of public works without any special authority of law.

The committee of councils appointed to investigate the market leases will confer with the mayor and an ordinance to regulate the matter in the future will be agreed upon.

DRUMMERS WANT TRUNKS.

Owners of Stolen Baggage Are Found by Police—Suspects Are Being Held.

Superintendent of Detectives McQualde last night received a telegram from B. C. Riblet of Denver, asking him to forward his trunk to him at St. Louis. Another telegram was received from William Graham of Blackwood, W. Va., to forward his trunk there. The trunks are those recovered by the detectives Monday at Eleventh street and Spring alley in possession of John Griffin and John Wilson, who were suspected of stealing them from a railroad station or baggage room by changing the checks on them and having them sent here.

The detectives learned yesterday the trunks were stolen at Overbrook, near Philadelphia. Riblets' trunk had been in transit from New York, and Graham's from Hazelton. At the central station the trunks were opened and their owners' names learned. Wilson and Griffin are being held and this morning the officers of the express company will make information against them.

SUES TO RECOVER SUMS PAID ON POLICIES

New York Life Made Defendant by Former Policy-Holder Whose Charges Are Many.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, April 10.—As a result of the recent insurance developments, three suits were filed here today, in the state circuit court. The plaintiff is David Baumgarten, and the defendant is the New York Life Insurance Company. The suits were all for the recovery of premiums paid on lapsed policies.

The basic allegatidon is "fraud upon policy holders," and carries the various allegations that the officers of the company paid excessive salaries, squandered large sums of the policy holders' money in illegal expenses, rebates, briberies, contributions to political campaigns and that the trustees invested large sums in syndicate operations for exploiting stocks and bonds and other securities for their own profit and not to the advantage of the policy holders.

The plaintiff says that he was not aware of these things when he insured, or he would never have taken the policies; that he let his policies lapse because he became dissatisfied with the company, but even at that time he did not know of these delinquencies which he now charges. The policies were for $25,000 and recovery of $6,280 in premiums and interest is now sought.

Three of the buildings were until recently occupied by the Autenreith department store. They will be remodeled and fitted up for slot machine amusement enterprises.

The Brady-Grossman Company took out a permit yesterday to remodel a building in Fifth avenue, near Market street, for amusement enterprises, including moving picture machines. The alterations are to cost $3,000.

Rich Perfumes for the Easter Toilette

From the isles of the Orient, from France, from Bulgaria—indeed, we may say from all over the world—do we go in quest of the best perfumery that chemists can compound. We dare say there is not a greater collection of perfumery than the one to be found in our Toilet Division of main floor, West.

And here is a right good place to tell our public something that is but little known, namely, we have a laboratory in which we manufacture Perfumes, Sachets, etc., and, like all Horne's products, they are good.

The list of Perfumes and Toilet Waters and Sachets and Soaps, etc., is entirely too large to go into detail, but we can give you a substantial list from which choice can be made.

A Matchless Array of Women's Spring Wraps.

The Easter suit will demand a wrap.

We hardly know where there would be found such another lavish display of charming and modish garments as right here in our very large Wrap Department of second floor. Certainly not in Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

All that Fashion has favored for this Spring are here from both sides of the ocean. The most elegant things that Paris has produced as well as the smartest wraps from America's Fashion Center, New York.

Wraps for as much as you want to pay—wraps for as little as you want to pay. See the figures—

Redfern Corsets.

Filled With Genuine Arctic Whalebone.

We are conveniently equipped for fitting corsets and consider it the proper course. Let us familiarize you with these sterling models, the most fashionable shapes for this season.

Redfern Models are the original hose-supporter corsets.

We call your attention to this particular corset feature for the reason that one is not quite sure to secure the perfect figure result without the hose supporters attached to the corset, as the designer intended they should be. Redfern Models are designed with the exact hose supporter in mind, resulting in perfect fitting and comfort.

We have a large assortment of styles and are therefore qualified to fit any figure.

$3.50 to $15.00 per pair.

Silk Petticoats for One-Third Less.

The frou frou of silk was heard in the second floor, East, yesterday—a sale of Silk Petticoats, especially for underprices, is always an incentive to women to get enthusiastic.

Then there was the other incentive that Easter will be here the first of the week, and the silk petticoat is one of the proper belongings of the Easter outfit.

Quite a range of colors, including black, and the prices are as follows:

$ 5.00 is the price of $ 7.50 Silk Petticoats.
$ 6.00 is the price of $ 9.00 Silk Petticoats.
$ 6.50 is the price of $10.00 Silk Petticoats.
$ 8.00 is the price of $12.00 Silk Petticoats.
$10.00 is the price of $15.00 Silk Petticoats.
$12.00 is the price of $18.00 Silk Petticoats.

And if you want something yet finer we will be pleased to show you some as fine as any woman would wish to wear, at the same relative reductions.

We also have on sale White Embroidered Petticoats, finished with deep embroidered flounce, tucks and under ruffles—white petticoats that are well worth $1.75, our special price, each $1.00

Easter Hosiery for Women.

Of course, hosiery of silk is the first thought. We have gathered together the very best variety of silk hosiery that we could find in our travels through Europe and America. The collection is the largest we have ever had, it abounds in variety that takes a very wide range. Perhaps this list will give a better idea than we could in a much longer talk:

Pure French Silk Stockings in black, embroidered in self and contrasting colors; in white embroidered in self; silk hose, black and white, with lace boots, both embroidered and plain; black silk hose with black clocks and white with black clocks; delicate colors with neat lace boots; plain solid colors such as gray, pink, lavender, red, yellow, tan, bronze and navy, with dainty self clocks on ankle—these stockings range in price from $3.00 a pair up to $15.00.

Plain Silk Stockings, with double spliced cotton soles, $1.50 a pair.

Part Silk and Lisle Stockings, in various colors and their shades, together with black and white, $1.00 a pair.

Plated Silk Stockings, black, white and all colors, 85c a pair.

In this connection we call attention to our very large line of fine Lisle Thread Stockings—some plain, some neatly embroidered—50c a pair and up to $1.50.

Don't Forget Gloves.

Long Gloves for women are going out faster than we can get them in, still we'll undertake to see that you are supplied with whatever glove you best like.

Men's Walking Gloves, in an especially appreciable Easter line, is a feature of the Men's Store. Our prices are always lowest—that's the general principle of the store, to quote lowest prices in town.

Don't Forget Shoes.

Women should take time early enough before Saturday to look over our new lines of Oxfords and Boots. It is just possible Easter weather will permit the wearing of lowcuts.

As for boys' and girls' Easter Shoes, all the new blocks are ready.

Our prices are always lowest—that's the general principle of the store to quote lower prices than any place in town.

Don't Forget Neckwear.

Both at the Women's Counter and at the Men's Counter it may be said that we are daily receiving new neckwear expressing the thoughts of the best designers, both in Europe and in this country.

Wednesday, April 11, 1906.

Lieut.-Col. John P. Penny of the staff of Gen. Miller might well be retained by the new commander of the National Guard of Pennsylvania. He has to his credit many years of active service and some decided improvements in equipment of the men. He has many friends among the guardsmen in Pittsburgh and elsewhere, who will be pleased to see him reappointed on the major general's staff.

The growth of business at the Pittsburgh postoffice is shown by the record-breaking sale of stamps during March; 1,480,000 of the one-cent and 3,700,000 of the two-cent denomination. When the annual receipts amount to $2,000,000, as they are expected to within a few months at the present rate of increase, the Pittsburgh office will occupy the seventh place in the country. It is evident the new post office building cannot come too soon.

St. Petersburg seemed certain yesterday that the strained relations between Premier Witte and Minister of the Interior Durnovo are to culminate immediately in the downfall of one or other of the officials. The czar's freedom of choice in the matter is doubtless hampered by the influence of foreign bankers, who might not hold their present opinion of Russia's solvency if Witte were dismissed. At the present juncture Russia has more to lose than Witte should they part company.

At yesterday's hearing before the interstate commerce commission in Philadelphia the willingness of witnesses to testify and to produce papers was a leading feature. This does not necessarily imply innocence of any offense against the law or good public policy. It may be merely a plunging into the "immunity bath." Senator Tillman, being a "cornfield lawyer," only, may have overlooked this feature when introducing his resolution, or he may have thought unpunishable disclosures would serve best for political capital.

Windy March is a notoriously bad month for fires, and last month was no exception to the rule, as shown by the figures issued yesterday by the underwriters. In the United States and Canada the total loss was $18,727,000. This is an increase of $4,000,000 over March, 1905, and of $7,500,000 over March, 1904. There were no fires that may be classed as "big," but many a blaze that in a month of light breezes might have been extinguished without serious loss was fanned by March winds into costly proportions.

Apparently the Memorial hall is not to be located on the market house site without warm opposition. A plea is made against having the edifice surrounded by great mercantile buildings. There is a sentimental basis for this, but it hardly overcomes the argument for convenience of location. Diamond square will be always the center of Greater Pittsburgh, approachable from all directions without payment of extra carfares. It is spacious enough to give the Memorial a good setting even though it may be surrounded in time by skyscrapers.

Quite a simple plan for revenge was that which got Knorr into the clutches of the law. His alleged plan was to get signatures of heavy depositors, forge their names to checks, cash the paper and then destroy the evidence. No consideration of personal profit entered into the calculation, the object being merely to "put the bank on the bum." Of course, revenge satisfied, plans might have followed for the enjoyment of so much wealth. As the matter has turned out this will not be necessary. It is the simple life for Knorr—a diet mainly of bread and water with no excitement apart from that afforded by the animalculated fluid from the Allegheny river.

It is to be hoped Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist and revolutionary agitator who arrived in New York yesterday, will not be guilty of such incendiary speech during his stay in this country as will repel that sympathy which the American people generally feel for the oppressed of Russia. For Gorky the literary genius we may entertain the highest respect, but many of the methods he advocates for righting grievous wrongs are diametrically opposed to the true American spirit and will meet with no general approval in this country. Gorky, with his acknowledged talents, might perform a legitimate mission in this country by describing conditions as they are in Russia. There will be no welcome for incendiary utterances.

Immigrant officials at American seaports were advised yesterday of the recent landing of many Italian anarchists. With the co-operation of Italian consuls in this country, many of these undesirable arrivals can be located and placed under restraint or deported, and this action, according to Washington authorities, is to be taken. The fact that a considerable number of anarchists were able to enter this country at different points and meet, by evident prearrangement, at Baltimore, illustrates the imperative necessity for rigid restriction of immigration. When aliens are often admitted at a rate of speed permitting an examination of each individual's qualifications occupying just 45 seconds, the difficulty of ascertaining the character of such as these latest arrivals is apparent. There is no room in the United States for anarchists of any nationality.

A Large Auditorium.

With the controversy over locating the Memorial hall is raging the Western Pennsylvania Exposition society has decided to enlarge its music hall into a spacious auditorium. This will pretty well meet the need for a downtown place of assembly, though slightly less convenient than Diamond square. It will have the additional handicap of not being available during the exposition season, which is also the period of the fall campaigns.

This decision of the Exposition society to create a large auditorium is altogether commendable. It is not a money-making organization. It was founded to earn the means to establish and maintain an industrial school. This field has been in part pre-empted by the Carnegie Technical schools, and no fault can be found if the Exposition society embraces the opportunity to serve a more immediate, or urgent public purpose. There can be little question about raising the necessary funds for the improvement.

Raffling Off a Clergyman.

Since other congregations, similarly situated, might be tempted to follow the example of the First Baptist church of Freedom, Neb., in order to extricate themselves from the horns of an unpleasant dilemma and at the same time divert needed funds to their treasuries, the fact cannot be too widely disseminated throughout the country than the raffling off of a clergyman may be followed by unexpected and undesirable consequence. The Rev. James Watson, the new pastor at Freedom, is a bachelor, young, coy and attractive. Since the flock provided no parsonage for its shepherd, it was found necessary for him to secure board and lodging at the home of one of the members. A dozen mothers with marriageable daughters promptly applied for the privilege of entertaining the young minister as a paying guest, and each threatened to leave the church should her aplication be refused. In order to preserve peace, the deacons decided that the women should draw lots for the clergyman, letting the law of chance settle the dispute, which was fast becoming dangerous. And then it was that the serpent of commercialism wended its way into this Baptist Eden, with the suggestion that the chances be sold for one dollar each, the money thus raised to accrue to the church treasury. So the clergyman was raffled off, when the lucky number was discovered in the possession of a young widow who had not been expected to compete. Now all the other women threaten to withdraw from membership and one of the biggest church rows on record is promised.

Moralists will delight in drawing lessons from this plain, unvarnished tale of Nebraska church life, pointing out the evils of gambling and the peril of introducing secular and shady methods into religious affairs, but they will overlook the real lesson, the folly of trying to compete with a widow who's up in the ways of the world. Disappointed rivals declare she knew just how to draw the lucky number, but their demand for a second drawing will not be granted. In the light of the Freedom episode the raffling of a bachelor clergyman cannot be commended to congregations which desire to dwell together in the sweet bonds of sisterly love.

An Open Door.

An excellent opening has been made for reaching an amicable settlement of the anthracite mining dispute. Countering the proposition of the miners to have an arbitration the operators suggest submission of all new questions to the commission of 1902. The new questions are those of wages and hours mainly. The operators desire to avoid further discussion of the open or closed shop, as they are determined not to concede the latter.

President Mitchell and his followers cannot mistake the situation. The way is open for an adjustment of every difference except the question whether the miners or operators shall have the power to decide who may be employed in the mines. The miners cannot afford to declare a strike on that single issue. It will not gain them public sympathy. The operator is the employer and as long as he pays full union wages and maintains union conditions it is his proper privilege to employ whom he pleases. He cannot compel any man to work against his will; it is not right he should be required to discharge a competent employe who suits him.

The Lesson From Vesuvius.

While the total loss in lives and property caused by the latest eruption of Mt. Vesuvius may not be estimated for weeks, it is known that a score of towns and villages have been wiped out, acres upon acres of vineyards and olive groves laid waste and hundreds of thousands of persons, in all likelihood, rendered homeless. The history of previous eruptions encourages the hope that the worst is over, but there are absolutely no means of telling whether Vesuvius has spent its fury or is to resume the dreadful work with increased intensity. The disaster in Naples yesterday, occasioned by the collapsing of a market house, was indirectly due to the volcano's activity, an accumulation of cinders on the roof proving too heavy for the ancient structure to support.

Tourists on their first visit to Vesuvius are invariably surprised at the proximity of human habitations to the dreaded volcano which has wrought such ruin in the past. With Pompeii and Herculaneum in mind, they ask the guides how people have the temerity to form communities under the very shadow of Vesuvius, with the possibility of destructive activity ever imminent. Even though Vesuvius for hundreds of years has generally given warning before resuming operations, so that those who heed may save their lives, they cannot save their homes and property, their vineyards and cultivated fields. The guides reply that the Italian government has grown weary of warning the people of their danger in becoming near neighbors of Vesuvius. The happy-go-lucky peasant refuses to take these warnings seriously. He doesn't believe Vesuvius is going to be violent in his lifetime. When, a few days ago, torrents of lava began to flow in earnest, the people of Naples exhibited much the same nonchalance by saying: "Vesuvius is celebrating King Edward's arrival" Hardly an American city that is visited by an annual flood of more or less destructiveness but has its dwellers on low-lying ground who refuse to profit by past and often sad experience. Italy is a crowded country, and fertile land is at a premium, but it would seem the part of wisdom to make some arrangement to prevent the repopulating of Vesuvius' zone of danger.

No Need for Alarm.

Arrival at Philadelphia of a steamer from Bombay, containing four seamen who are suffering from bubonic plague, causes some uneasiness in our sister city and may even disturb timid minds nearer home. Prompt isolation of the patients should effectually prevent a spread of the disease, though it would not be surprising were a few more cases reported from among the companions of those who have already been attacked.

While the very name of bubonic plague seems to inspire terror, American seaports have experienced several mild visitations during the last few years which have demonstrated the ability of our quarantine officers to cope with the disease and confine its depredations within a very restricted area. In 1899, the same year that the scourge reached England, two cases were discovered at New York, but there was no spread of the disease. In 1900 two more cases at the quarantine station were magnified by the yellow journals into a threatened epidemic, but no additional cases developed. A stoker from Calcutta developed a single case in 1901. San Francisco suffered much more severely in this year, however, having 42 fatal cases of the plague. Comparing even these latter figures with the awful record at Marseilles in 1720, when 86,000 persons perished from the plague, it is spareni how the power of the dread disease has been broken. "Dirt diseases" no longer find such fertile food on which to thrive. No people in the world have less cause to fear the plague than we, who have given most attention to the study of proper drainage, pure water and sanitary surroundings generally.

Drawing Party Lines.

Agreement has practically been reached among Republican members of the senate upon the court review provision that is to go into the railroad rate bill. The agreement is being built on Senator Knox's proposed modification of the Long amendment. This development is gratifying from several points of view. It will assure the adoption of the amendment and of the bill, for the Republicans have the necessary votes if they act together. It will almost certainly assure the constitutionality of the law when passed and lastly, it will restore to the Republican party the credit for this legislation which originated with the recommendation of the Republican President.

During several weeks the Democratic leaders have been making strenuous efforts to make the bill their own. They were favored by the action of the senate committee when it gave the measure into the keeping of Senator Tillman. The powerful speech of Senator Joseph Bailey of Texas, delivered yesterday, will aid in separating the parties, the Democratic leader taking ground for limitation, by legislative enactment, of the jurisdiction of the federal courts. Mr. Bailey's argument is strong and plausible, but falls far short of the legal presentation of the question made by Senator Knox.

While it is probable the Democrats will become a unit in support of the views of their floor leader, they will be apt to vote for the bill with the Republican amendment, on final passage, after doing their best to defeat the amendment.

Whatever the Hon. William J. Brennen may think of Mayor Guthrie's appointments he has no complaint against the "Gusher Prince" who shed the rain of prosperity "when all other sources had dried up."

There is really no occasion to become excited because a Cincinnati man has named his baby Ananias. The father may be ambitious to have a Democratic orator in the family.

According to Washington correspondents, Uncle Joe Cannon's favorite hymn is "Pull for the Shore." Nobody in Washington doubts the potency of Uncle Joe's pull.

It is to be hoped that thus early in the week the new weather man realizes the great responsibility that rests upon him and that must be discharged next Sunday.

Many a wife reports at home that she has found a new spring suit that can be bought "for a song." But too often the song turns out to be "One Hundred."

Bailey of Texas cannot see why the senate may not limit the jurisdiction of the federal courts. Down in Texas the courts are not the whole show.

According to the police magistrates there are a few persons in Pittsburgh who are not drinking boiled water exclusively.

Interesting If True.

THE LAST STRAW.

Maria, we must leave the farm,
In spite of honest toil;
Fur congress, with its mighty arm,
Has yanked us from the soil.
We've struggled on through blight an' rust,
An' boerders' whims an' greed,
But agriculter bites the dust
When shet o' them free seed.

The corn they sent us riz a laugh—
It wa'n't no great fur ears,
But growed sech poles fur telegraph,
It stopped the neighbors' jeers.
But now insulted we must bleed;
What can New England do
Without them Georgie melon seed
To swell her revenoo?

We've stood 'most every kind o' tax,
An' trusts o' blackest dye,
But free-seed famine grinds the ax
That gnittes us hip an' thigh.
Ter brush our pasters must return,
Our medders run ter weeds,
While we, as starvin' exiles, yearn
Fur portulaca seeds.

The World's a Stage and We the Players

Gossip of Men and Things on Both Sides of the Asbestos Curtain.

By Charles M. Bregg.

It was in Rome that people first began generally to patronize the circus. While the stadium of Greece was the model, it was Rome that gave us the "sure enough" circus, not the three-ring, eye-confusing, brain-bewildering affair that we know, but a mighty amphitheater, where they held all sorts of games and performed feats of dexterity, chariot racing etc., injecting occasionally a few lion baiting performances, in which human beings were used as bait. The old Roman circus was a huge affair. For instance the Circus Flaminius, built B. C. 221, was 1,000 by 400 feet, while the later and regarded by historians as the most magnificent circus Rome ever saw was the Circus Maximus. It was in this huge amphitheater that our old friend Julius Caesar used to watch from his private box the various "shows" that billed the town. It was Julius who had erected a canal around the performing "ring" of this circus "to further protect the populace from the wild beasts who fought in the circle."

If this column could spare the space the encylopaedia would furnish "circus news" from those old Roman days that would make Tody Hamilton or any other circus press agent green with envy.

Coming down to more recent days, the circus somewhat as we know it may be traced to performances given in London in 1770 and onward. First by Philip Astley, who has the honor of being the original English circus manager on a large scale. Astley first gave his somewhat varied performances of jugglery, acrobatics and equestrianism in the open air, and afterward built himself an amphitheater in 1780. He died in 1814 and was succeeded as the premier English circus manager by Ducrow, the celebrated equestrian. However, during this period the traveling circus had become extremely common in one form or another throughout England. The most famous English circus of those days was Hengler's', which is still used as a model for circus excellence, and, if I am not mistaken, the name is still in use over there as a circus trademark, and I have heard, but suspect it is only traditional, that the Hengler sisters of vaudeville and music hall fame are descendants of this old English circus man.

Sanger's circus was also a famous English tent show of the eighteenth century.

American annals are not clear on the subject, but it is doubtless true that the tent circus began to develop in this country about the time of its English origin. The earliest definite figure in the circus history of this country is that of Ricketts. Details of what Rickets' press agent claimed for the show are lacking, but it has come sounding down the ages that George Washington "the Father of His Country", attended Ricketts' circus once in Philadelphia in 1780, and professed himself as greatly impressed by its excellence. Think of the immortal George munching peanuts while the clown cried "Bring on another hoss." It was not, however, until 1830 that the traveling tent circus exhibition was given in this country on a large scale. It remained for Purdy, Welch & Co. at this time, and the still famous name of Van Amburgh, to figure as the earliest exponents of the "big show," "the most massive and magnificent aggregation of amazing wonders the world ever witnessed," according to the then, and still, adjectivorous press agent.

Purdy, Welch & Co.'s circus was in the days of our great grandfathers a thing of joy.

One of my earliest boyhood remembrances is hearing my mother's old servants talk of having once seen "Van Amburgh's show." Whether my progenitors had the circus going habit or not, I do not recall, but being strict Calvinists I am rather inclined to believe that the tales of circus going I heard as a child came to me through the colored servants, for the reason that they alone of our household in those days affected the "godless amusement." The Van Amburgh name in those days was one to conjure with. It was known from one end of the country to the other, and from tradition that has descended to the present day I imagine it must have been a new and wonderful departure from the ordinary tent shows of the period.

In those days the humor of the clown was a conspicuous feature of the circus. This entertainer was usually a wit rather than an acrobat, and secured his results by sheer repartee and the sallies of prepared and impromptu wit. The horse was also in those days more largely a factor than he is today. The cultivation of difficult feats of strength and acrobatics now form the principal feature of the circus and, according to one encyclopaedic commentator, "the tendency is noticeable in the popular mind to return to the Roman appetite for blood and peril of life."

After Van Amburgh, the name of old John Robinson looms large on the horizon of history. I know that John had one contemporary that stands for the greatest of American circus achievements, but where only the large cities of the east knew and saw the Barnum shows, nearly every town and hamlet of any size east of the Mississippi river had a visit during this period from 1870 to 1880 of John Robinson's circus. The first Robinson show was a "one-ring" affair, with menagerie attachment, and from the very start it was the top notch of excellence for those "inland" dwellers whose standards of comparison were the other small circuses that came their way.

Boyhood memories cluster closely around the old Robinson show. In the interior towns of the south its coming was heralded many weeks in advance and preparations were begun by the population of the entire county, and by many in adjoining counties, to witness the performance.

To these rural dwellers of the southland the circus was almost the only form of amusement, and was besides, a message from the world outside that told us of progress and instructed us in the manners and customs of more cosmopolite communities. On the day of a circus performance a general holiday was given. Farmers stopped the plows in the furrows or called all hands from the cornfields. Before ten o'clock the shiretown of the county, usually the seat of the performance, presented a scene never to be forgotten by those who witnessed it. Every imaginable style of vehicle appeared on the streets, unloading its mass of humanity, white, black, old, young, masters and servants.

"On the old farm" long before daylight the circusgoers were astir. I remember as a boy eating my hurried breakfast in the dark before dawn streaked the eastern sky. It was 12 mountainous miles to that circus tent and every servant on the place had the idea that unless they started before sun up the performance would be over before they got there.

Parental, religious and social rigor had relaxed in my day and I was permitted to "go along," provided an older brother would swear to take care of me. Usually the older brother was willing to swear to anything to get to the circus, even though he might forget me the moment the band struck up for the big street parade. The jokes that we still laugh at were current in those days, and perhaps had been current in the previous generation. The man still smiled sheepishly over his protest that he only went to the circus in order to "look after the children." Then there was the haughty fellow of social and business prestige who sneered at the general enthusiasm and indignantly resented the intimation that he would go to the circus.

Usually he could be picked out later on one of the tiers of plain plank seats laid one above the other, so that your seat usually served a double purpose, being the foot rest of the fellow above you.

I remember a specially boyish delight over a famous clown that John Robinson had for years, John Lowlow. To me John was the acme of brilliant wit and good nature. He seemed so much in earnest in his efforts to make the people laugh, and while he did many clownish tricks, I do not remember ever to have seen Lowlow do a vulgar thing by pantomime. It was the one-ring circus days of which I write, and while we never saw the vast variety and perfection that the present three-ringed affair affords, there were splendid examples of equestrianism, high and lofty tumbling and trapeze performances. The trained animal was not so general then, and I recall the terror and fear I felt the first time I saw a trainer strike a lion cruelly across the face with his whip. My natural history study led me to expect an immediate crunching of bones as the king of the jungle proceeded to make a meal off his trainer.

After Robinson came Barnum and then came the circus deluge. Today vast millions are invested in the tented shows and from having only one we now have no less than a dozen "greatest shows on earth."

Quiet Observations on Timely Topics

An Artist Is Not Without Honor, Save in His Own Country.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Strange, most strange, that artists should so resemble prophets. In that they are not without honor, save in their own country.

We may say like other prophets, for they are teachers of great truths of nature, as were the prophets or teachers, of old who read in the book of nature and therefrom drew lessons which have made men wise, noble and great.

Interpreters of the book of nature have been the most efficient teachers of men in all ages, and such they will ever be, for nature is next to God, and through it man approaches most nearly to Him, and sees Him at closest range.

It seems a pity, if not a positive cruelty, that artists should be compelled to go from their own homes in order to command the recogniiton their work deserves, and oftime richly deserves.

The next to leave us will be Poole, or rather the next to be driven away.

And who doesn't know Poole, if not personally, through his pleasing pictures drawn directly from nature? Has he not been with us long, and who has not lingered long and lovingly over his rich, truthful landscapes, some fragrant with apple or peach blossoms, some with glowing summac, some filled with the quietness of a mountain nook, or shaded brook, and some with hints of the old houses approached by winding woodland paths, or farm lanes fringed with wild roses, hawthorne and golden rod?

Mr. Poole has a score and more of his recent paintings on exhibition at Wunderly's, on Sixth avenue, and he is there in person to meet and to greet, not only his own friends and admirers, but all who may call and bid them good-bye, for he feels that he must go away—must go out of his own country, out among strangers.

Surrounded by his beautiful pictures, pictures that he loves, and which are worthy of the love of every lover of nature, he presents a striking picture of a worthy prophet in his own country.

He is not going away in bitterness, nor with a feeling of coldness towards Pittsburgh, but rather in sadness at having to leave the friends, and the scenes he has learned to admire and to love. But the command to go seems to be imperative, therefore to be obeyed.

Not a few of our good people are regretting their not having a Lawman, a Hetzel or an Alfred Wall in their collection. They could have had them, and at trifling cost, while these artists lived, just as they can get Pooles, Liesers, Woodwells, Johns, Brayan Walls, Stevensons, and others now.

Had they improved their opportunities they would not only have paintings by artists whom they knew and admired, works of art that will grow in value year by year indefinitely, but would have given such encouragement to those struggling painters that would have made their lives happier, their homes more comfortable, and given to their work a gentler touch, a softer glow, a purer spirit.

Have we learned a lesson from the passing of our old masters?

Mr. Poole is anxious to get out to meet the coming of the apple blossoms and wild plums, and to catch the feeling of spring, so grateful to all living creatures, and to the sensitive souls of artists in particular.

Being impulsive, as artists must needs be, he offers his pictures, these idols of his heart, at ridiculous prices as compared with the prices paid for foreign works possessing far less real merit.

But that is the artist's way, also the way of the people, for they are ever willing to pay a foreign artist twice, or thrice over, and they will pay a home artist, a neighbor, or a friend, for portraits, or fine paintings.

Will somebody tell us why this is so? It does not seem reasonable, yet being a fact there must be a sufficient cause for it.

We talk a lot about encouraging home talent; but isn't it mostly talk? The right sort of encouragement is to patronize talent, and thus aid in its development.

There is not the same excuse now for going abroad for works of art that there once was. We have master artists on our own shores, and these are better fitted to interpret the nature with which we are environed than foreigners can possibly be.

What need, have we for the Dutch school or art in our homes where wooden shoes, shapeless gowns and baby caps are unknown? Examples of this school are all right in art galleries, or pretentious collections. But they are not home pictures for Americans.

It is gratifying to find a growing disposition on the part of Americans to patronize American art. May this disposition continue to grow indefinitely, even to the preferring of home artists for home art.

TOWN TALES: TALKS WITH TRAVELERS

Not Always Messages.

"Ham and ——," said the diminutive messenger boy in the quick lunch room. "Draw one, and custard pie!"

It was in the early morning, and as the messenger boy ate voraciously he talked of his week's exploits.

"Funny jobs the last few days? Well, I guess yes," he said. "Ginger, I gittin' the variety of adventures that 'Sleuthy Sam' met wid. Fer instance, last Thursday and Friday I exercised a big mastiff up and down the aisles o' the dog show; Friday night I hocked a diamond bracelet fer an East End lady who was bucking up against a bridge whist game; Saturday I escorted two Johnstown ladies to a matinee and they wouldn't let me out between de acts fer a cig'; Saturday night I brought home two swell drunks from a banquet in a cab an' helped put 'em t' bed; Sunday I toted messages in the afternoon an' in de evenin' chased up the copy o' a sermon a clergyman left on a railroad train; Monday I played detective for an ex-hubby who hated to pay his former wife alimony, an' yestiddy I was called out agin t' the East End ter hock two finger rings fer der same lady. Guess that bridge whist game is hittin' her income hard."

"Ginger! I hate ter carry messages now 'cause de tips come strong in de special lines."

From a Railroad Standpoint.

Railroaders hear the cream of the good stories from the commercial men and the travelers who think up 'good things' on a long monotonous journey. The appended story, told by a railroad official in the Union station last night, can hardly be considered sacreligious, for it exhibits the effect of environment on a child's mind.

The Pennsylvania official's little son is intensely interested in railroading and has a fairly clear idea of various routes.

The teacher in Sunday school last Sabbath, during the course of a New Testament lesson asked this youngster where our Lord was born.

"In Wilkes-Barre," answered the youngster promptly.

"Gracious, Willie!" gasped the horrified teacher. "Don't you know any better than that? Try again, please."

"Then if was in Mauch Chunk," murmured Willie crestfallen.

"No, no, my boy!" said the teacher severely. "Our Saviour was born in Bethlehem."

"Ah," exclaimed the boy, "I knew it was one of the stations on the Lehigh railroad!"

A Barchfeld-Tillman Joke.

Congressman A. J. Barchfeld just before he left for Washington Monday night, told a story in Union station at the expense of Senator Tillman.

It seems that a woman wrote a long letter to "Pitchfork" Tillman, reminding him that he was in Washington to help his constituents, and ending up with the request that he find her a husband. She didn't hanker after manly beauty, she wrote, but she would like a man with money.

The senator showed this remarkable request to the Pittsburgh congressman in the lobby of the house, and together they concocted the following reply:

"Dear Madam: 'We cannot find a good man in Washington outside of the legislative bodies, and we're too modest to mention names there. Washingtonians with morals haven't any money and the moneyed men haven't any morals. Do you still wish a husband under these conditions?"

Thereupon the young woman wrote back:

"No, indeed. But I understand that the White House cat has just had a litter of pretty six-toed kittens. As I have decided to become an old maid I must have a cat. Please send me one."

Japan Scorns the "Yellows."

"A few years ago Japan was bitten by the microbe of 'yellow journalism,' too," said T. Tokasi, traveling correspondent for the Tokio Jiji at the Fort Pitt yesterday. "I am professionally pleased that this era of sensationalism has passed and that honest journalism is once more enthroned, even as it is in Pittsburgh.

"Fifteen years ago the newspapers of Japan were devoted chiefly to the discussion of politics, patriotism, philosophy and were loaded with heavy editorials. Then M. Kuroiwa started the Yorosu daily, modeled on the best American ideas, which jumped to immediate popularity, and now has a circulation of 100,000, and everything but a comic supplement. Other papers followed his newsy style to advantage.

"During the late war many reputable papers were sensational, rabid and unreliable. Whereupon, the whole of journalism seemed about to be tainted. Soon the good sense of the Japanese people reasserted itself and readers themselves righted the situation. Now nearly all the powerful Japanese newspapers are conservative, yet newsy and alert like the best type of Pittsburgh journals. I have noticed the same sensational type of paper here, but think that the public can be relied on to keep it in its proper sphere."

And Other Defenseless Communities.

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

The Fort Pitt Rifle club was organized at the Hotel Henry last night, at a meeting attended by 27 prospective members. The new organization will draw its members from Pittsburgh and vicinity, and arrangements have been made for regular practice meets at the national guard rifle range at Saltsburg. The rifle club will be affiliated with the national association of riflemen.

J. M. Davidson, the moving spirit in forming the club, presided and at the conclusion of the business meeting was elected president. Other officers elected were: William Maynard, vice president; Frank H. Clay, secretary, and Henry W. Gleffer, treasurer. The Fort Pitt Rifle club will send two delegates to compete for trophies offered at the National Rifle association convention in Washington this summer.

Jones As a Coal Prophet.

John H. Jones, president of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company, left for New York last night to pick up a trunkful or two of coal contracts while the east is in the throes of an anthracite coal strike. The newly-organized association of independent coal operators threatens to make Mr. Jones permanent statistician. In an address before the Pennsylvania State Editorial association in the Hotel Schenley last September, he predicted that the total coal output in the Pittsburgh district would approximate 42,000,000 tons in 1905. The exact figures proved to be 41,800,000. Mr. Jones has been appointed by the organization to guess what the anthracite operators are going to do.

Students Come to Learn.

Forty students from the electrical and mechanical engineering departments of the University of Wisconsin, arrived last night in a special car from Dunkirk, N. Y., on an educational visit to Pittsburgh industries, bearing on their special line of study. The party spent last week in visiting industrial plants in the eastern states, and will spend four days in Pittsburgh, with headquarters at the Antler. Under the guidance of Profs. G. C. Schad and L. D. Williams, they will spend tomorrow at the Westinghouse works, and will visit the railroad shops and large foundries on succeeding days.

To Attend Indiana Rate Conference.

Col. Samuel Moody, general passenger agent of Pennsylvania lines west, left last night for Indianapolis to attend an important conference on passenger rates, at which the passenger officials of all Indiana railroads will be represented. The conference gains its importance from the attitude of the Ohio legislature in enforcing the 2-cent mileage law on through tickets that necessitate passage through that state, and some line of action will probably be decided upon.

Calling on Enforcement.

The Uniontown News Standard calls attention to the fact that there is an ordinance on record in Uniontown prohibiting the blowing and screeching of locomotive whistles within the limits of the borough. In commenting upon the fact that Baltimore has enforced a similar ordinance much to the relief of the people the News Standard refers to the non-enforcement of its own ordinance. Washington is in a similar situation. The nuisance goes on in this borough without any enforcement of the law. We all know that efforts were made during the past year to have the law enforced but the officers for some reason or other simply ignored the instructions of the burgess.—Washington Observer.

WALTERS REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS

Says Public Safety Committee Cannot Interfere With Police Reforms.

TAX ORDINANCE WILL PASS

"The public safety committee could not interfere with the reforms of the public safety department if it wanted to. If the director of public safety cannot carry out his plans to reform the city without depending upon the public safety committee he ought to step down and out. He has all the law and authority now he needs."

This was the reply of President Walters of select council yesterday to the criticisms of the public safety committee jointly appointed Monday night by Presidents Walters and Brand. It has been claimed the men appointed on the public safety committee would be a handicap to the exercise of the police power in the lower wards of the city, but President Walters asserts the members of the committee are powerless to interfere with the work of the police or Director Ridgway. P. A. Manion of the Fourth ward was elected chairman of the committee. L. H. Frederick of the Twenty-seventh ward, P. F. Toole of the First ward, and S. G. Lennox of the Seventeenth ward were also candidates for the chairmanship of the public safety committee, but withdrew in favor of Manion. It is pointed out that the worst the committee could do would be to hold up any reform measures that might be introduced in councils and referred to the committee, but councils could remedy this by withdrawing the ordinances and passing them over the committee's head.

The approval of the ordinance abolishing the office of delinquent tax collector by the finance committee today is regarded as practically certain. It is stated the majority of the finance committee is in favor of sending the ordinance to councils at the next meeting with an affirmative recommendation and its prompt passage by councils is also predicted. Some councilmen favor retaining the delinquent tax collectorship, but want the fees reduced, claiming a fee is an incentive for the collector to collect all the taxes that fall delinquent and this incentive would be withdrawn if the collector is paid a salary or the duties placed in the hands of the city treasurer. The advocates of the ordinance declare it is the business of the mayor to see that the treasurer does his duty.

The finance committee may also take up this afternoon the resolution introduced in select council by J. A. Schlamitzauer of the Twenty-fourth ward for the purchase of the plant of the Monongahela Water Company. The committee is authorized by the resolution to negotiate with the company and secure terms. The committee may appoint a sub-committee composed of its own members to negotiate with the company. The resolution, however, was adopted only by select branch.

Seven of the standing committees of the new councils are called to meet this afternoon—finance, corporations, public works, surveys, charities, filtration and bridges.

will likely be a week or two before he will be able to be around again. For several days his condition was considered serious, but it was stated yesterday that he was feeling considerably improved.

Dr. Stanton has not been in the best of health for some months past, and the present attack is thus all the more severe. He hopes to be able to leave the latter part of the month for an extended rest. If his health permits, he and Mrs. Stanton will go on April 23 to visit friends in Quincy, Ill., their former home, where 20 years ago Dr. Stanton was pastor of the Vermont Street Baptist church. The semi-centennial of the church will be celebrated on April 29 and 30, and Dr. Stanton hopes to be able to participate in the exercises planned to mark the event.

SERVICES SHOULD ATTRACT.

Attractive Calendar in Connection With Easter's Approach at Reformed Church of the Ascension.

An attractive calendar of services for Passion week and Easter in the Reformed Church of the Ascension, Termon avenue, Allegheny, has been arranged by the pastor, the Rev. Albert C. Dieffenbach. The services begin this evening, when the address will be, "Why Does the World Pray?" Tomorrow evening the subject will be "Church Membership: A Good Investment," preparatory to the confirmation of catechumens. The worship Friday evening will consist of the reading from the modern version of the scripture of the story of the Savior's trial and crucifixion, the confirmation and an address to the class by Prof. J. B. Kerschner, a member of the congregation and formerly professor in Mercersburg college.

The Easter services will be simple but exultant. The sacrament will be administered, the annual Easter offering gathered, and a brief address given on "The Glory of the Lord of Right." Easter evening the communion will again be celebrated and the sermon will be on "The Power for Service in an Endless Life." There will be appropriate music in each service.

Protection and Profit

The Pittsburgh agency of the Equitable Life is constantly in receipt of letters from policy holders and beneficiaries containing strong evidence that Equitable Policies offer the best protection for family and business interests and the wisest provision for a comfortable old age. Here is a letter, recently received, which speaks for itself:

New Castle, Pa., March 12th, 1906.

Edward A. Woods, Manager Equitable Life, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir—Having settled with The Equitable Life Assurance Society in the matter of a Whole Life policy of twenty years standing, and having received a check for the cash value, I take great pleasure in expressing my satisfaction with the company and its prompt method of business.

The results of the settlement have been all that I could expect, and indeed exceeded considerably my expectations. The investment has been in every way profitable, affording me assurance of provision for my family during the twenty years past, and returning me a good share of the profits on money paid in. My judgment is that no other investment open to men on salaries is so satisfactory and so sure to provide for all contingencies of family life as insurance of this class in a strong company such as The Equitable is, and I unhesitatingly recommend every employed man to put a part of his earnings into insurance in your company.

GUTHRIE MAKES NEW PARTY ISSUE

It Used to Be Sixteen to One, but Now Mayor Makes It Twenty-One to One.

BRENNEN IS BEREFT OF HOPE

The issue in the Democratic party used to be 16 to 1. Now it is 21 to 1. George W. Guthrie was put into the office of mayor with the assistance of over 21,000 Democrats. So far, as mayor, he has rewarded one Democrat.

For a brief period the Democratic hosts rejoiced. They thought they had two braves on the payroll. Saturday John Carey of the Fourteenth ward, was named as engineer of the steam roller in Schenley park. He was to work during fair weather. Yesterday it did not rain and he prepared to assume his duties. Then it was discovered he is a stationary engineer. He was told it was "23" for him and again the issue is 21 to 1.

Last night "Billy" Brennen was not at "The Steps." When he fails to mount his throne at Liberty and Walnut streets, the loyal braves know there is something doing. Their chief has been restless of late. No longer does he talk of the hopes which never dies in Democratic breasts. To close tribesmen of "The Steps" he has indicated that he has been deceived in the mayor. He expected much reform, but not quite so much civil service. In the management of a great campaign for the uplifting of a municipality, the candidate may occupy a lofty perch and decline to make promises, but the man who is "lining up the boys" has to pass out his word that certain loyal men will be "cared" for.

When "Billy" Brennen and "Jim" Clark agreed to forget all about that incident in Foley's hall three years ago, and turn in for Guthrie, they thought the prospective mayor would do the same. They battled early and late for the uplift of the city. Promises of appointment were as plentiful as typhoid fever germs. The "boys" turned in the votes and then demanded the "goods." Some of them wanted places in the cabinet. They did not secure the plum. Then came the rank and file crying for superintendencies, chief clerkships, just clerks and any old thing down to places on the "white wings." The mayor knew them not. Out of the surging mass one man was snatched and given a $2,000 clerkship.

"Jim" Clark stood it as long as he could and then "hiked" for Hot Springs. Some say he has gone to bail out his Democracy and return a half-rate Republican, when he hopes to have better standing with the mayor. "Billy" Brennen has stood his ground. Last night it was rumored at "The Steps" that he was out the Woodlawn road making a last stand for the "boys."

Today is supposed to witness the parting of the ways of John Eaton and the treasurship of the Civic party. It is said Mr. Eaton is not in accord with some Civic party leaders who defeated him for re-election as president of the chamber of commerce. For this reason he declines to affiliate with them in the work of political purification.

WEAVER-GORDON ALLIANCE ENDED

Mayor of Philadelphia Loses Counsel Who Has Been His Right Hand Man.

EXCHANGE PLEASANT WORDS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 10.

Ex-Judge James Gay Gordon today resigned his position as private counsel to Mayor Weaver. Briefly, the retiring private counsel declares that he resigns because he has finished all the work for the mayor which his position encompassed. He says upon District Attorney Bell now rests the responsibility of proceeding in the criminal courts against conspiring contractors and public officials who defrauded the city, and that procedure in the civil courts to recover the moneys of which the city was defrauded is now solely in the hands of City Solicitor Kinsey.

Judge Gordon argues that the district Attorney is now in possession of all necessary information upon which to act; that the bill in equity recently filed and the appendix thereto contain all the facts Judge Gordon can give to aid the city in recovering millions of which it was defrauded. His conclusion is that there is nothing more which he, as private counsel, can do. He congratulates Mr. Weaver on the successful termination of every battle the mayor has begun for the people and finally he pays his tribute to the high personal qualities of the mayor.

Mayor Weaver, in accepting the resignation, thanks his counsel for the unselfish devotion which led him to labor for the people without financial reward and at the expense of his private practice, and expresses regret that Judge Gordon would not agree to have the mayor ask councils to make an appropriation to reimburse Mr. Gordon.

NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

MUSICIAN'S WIFE DID NOT BITE HUSBAND.

She Accuses Him of Associating With Young Women and Admits She Was Jealous.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENVILLE, PA., April 10.—Prof. John P. Symons, formerly director of the Thiel college conservatory of music, and organist in the Presbyterian church here, recently started divorce proceedings against Marie Symons at Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Symons has filed an answer and cross-petition.

In it she denies ever having struck or bitten her husband, as he charged, or circulated false stories about him. She says she worked hard to help support him in England while he was studying music and they got along well until coming to Greenville, where Symons became connected with Thiel college. Then she says he began the inordinate use of tobacco, and also drank wine at students' meetings, remaining out sometimes until 3 o'clock in the morning.

During this time, Mrs. Symons says, he associated much with Greenville young women, and she admits she did become jealous, as charged. On returning from England two years ago, she found that her husband had left Greenville, and in a note addressed to her she says he made the statement that he would rather die than live with her again.

She found him at Omaha. She declares he makes from $2,500 to $3,000 a year, and asks that she be given $300 suit money, alimony, a divorce and the custody of their child.

WISHED-FOR HALL IS NOW IN SIGHT

PLAN A GREAT AUDITORIUM

That the Pittsburgh exposition hall will be remodeled so that conventions, big meetings, concerts and other entertainments can be given there winter and summer is almost a foregone conclusion. The only thing that now stands in the way is the mere matter of raising the money to pay for the improvements. As the Exposition society is composed of public-spirited, wealthy citizens, it is believed that Chairman H. J. Heinz of the new ways and means committee will find no difficulty in raising the money.

Remodeling the exposition hall has been talked about for years, but the society did not see its way clear to assume the expense. While the society was not organized for the purpose of making money, its members are business men who do not lightly rush into an expensive undertaking unless they are positive the results, at least from the ethical and educational standpoint, will justify the expenditure. In former years all the exposition hall could depend upon for patronage was an occasional political meeting, an infrequent saengerfest, now and then a small convention. Times have changed since then. Conventions, conclaves and encampments are coming to Pittsburgh more and more; the annual operatic season is so successful that the company producing it stays a week in the city, and above all, the fact that thousands of people year after year have been patronizing concerts given during the exposition has demonstrated that from various points of view a remodeling of the exposition hall and the installation of a heating plant would be remunerative.

The directors of the Exposition society met yesterday afternoon in the Stevenson building, and the orchestra committee of the Art society and the manager of the Pittsburgh orchestra, George H. Wilson, were there by invitation.

A complete remodeling of the exposition hall, so Mr. Heinz said yesterday, would cost $100,000, but that expenditure would make it equal to any in the country. The Pittsburgh orchestra would be able to give concerts at 25 cents and 50 cents for seats, for the experimental concerts given in Old City Hall and in the Carnegie hall, Allegheny, have demonstrated that the people will flock to hear good music, if it is furnished at moderate prices and in a hall conveniently situated.

SIMPLE PLAN OF REVENGE IS FOILED BY DETECTIVES

"In Two Weeks I Would Have Put Bank on the Bum," Says Joseph G. Knorr.

"In two weeks I would have put the bank on the bum," said Joseph G. Knorr, alias Joseph Blanchard, of Winslow street, when arrested at 6 o'clock yesterday morning in the Columbia Savings and Trust Company's building, 219 Fourth avenue. Knorr was bookkeeper for the company, but was discharged the first of the month by President William H. Diehl, and threatened to get even.

Knorr's plan was very simple. He was endeavoring to get copies of the signatures of large depositors, who seldom have their accounts balanced, with the object of forging their names to checks which he would get cashed in other banks. Then, if opportunity afforded, he would secure the checks after they had been returned to the Columbia company in the regular course of business and destroy the evidence against him. If he could not do this he would flee.

The building is being remodeled and mechanics are working there day and night. Knorr has been loafing about the building in the early morning, and this was reported to President Diehl, who notified the police. Detectives Rice, Porter, Siefert and Crooks were stationed at the building yesterday morning and caught Knorr inside. When searched Knorr had a pair of knucklers, wire cutters, two large knives, two forged checks on the Columbia company, one for $645 to the order of Henry Braun, signed by Herman Siegle and indorsed by Braun; the other for $1,050, payable to George Greallsh, signed by Bertha Liepold and indorsed by Greallsh, and a canceled check for $5 in favor of S. Cohen, signed by Herman Siegle and indorsed by Henry Braun and S. Cohen. The first two checks Knorr intended to deposit for collection, but the third check he had stolen to secure the signatures of Siegle and Braun. Knorr confessed he intended to open the book vaults and copy the signatures and the amounts credited to a number of depositors. He was foiled in this, as the combination was changed after his discharge.

Informations will be made against Knorr this morning. He formerly lived in Ambridge, where he was employed in a bank, and is a well-known amateur boxer.

REMEMBERS NEEDY WOMEN.

Former Mayor Ashbridge of Philadelphia Provides for Home for Indigent in His Will.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—After providing liberally for his relatives during their lives, the will of Samuel H. Ashbridge, former mayor, which was admitted to probate today, directs that his estate at the expiration of the various trusts established shall be devoted to the founding of "The Samuel H. Ashbridge Home for Indigent Widows and Single Women." The former mayor explains that he takes such action because of the many cases of destitution that came to his notice while in office.

The estate is valued at $84,000, of which $79,000 in personal property. The executors and trustees are Gustav Bacharach and Schuyler Armstrong, his son-in-law. Under the will as first drawn on January 4, 1904, Abraham L. English, director of public safety during the Ashbridge administration, was named as executor and trustee, but the appointment is revoked in a codicil.

John Drew in "Delancey."

The seat sale for John Drew's engagement here begins tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Nixon box office. In "DeLancey" Mr. Thomas has given Mr. Drew a character that fitted him as perfectly as the traditional glove or the paper on the wall. It is very much modern and about as ultra-fashionable an affair as the audiences on the other side of the footlights when Mr. Drew opens his engagement at the Nixon theater Monday night in "DeLancey."

Kirschler Uses Veto Power.

Mayor Kirschler of Allegheny yesterday vetoed resolutions authorizing the payment of $750 to W. E. Clark for drawing plans for the Fourteenth ward fire engine house, and the refunding of $824.70 taxes to the Presbyterian hospital. The mayor says Charles Rieger and not Clark ought to be paid for drawing the plans, and that the hospital taxes should not be refunded, as the institution is drawing rental from the property taxed.

GUARANTEE GETS EQUITABLE STOCK

Fourth Avenue Institution Absorbs Another Rival and Broadens Its Business.

ELECTIONS AT OTHER BANKS

By a deal consummated at a meeting of the directors of the Equitable Trust Company, 509 Smithfield street, yesterday afternoon, the controlling interest of the company was sold to the Guarantee Title and Trust Company, 232 Fourth avenue, at $145 per share. By this sale the deposits of the Guarantee company will be increased from $2,175,784 to practically $4,000,000, without any increase in the capital stock, which is $1,000,000. The price paid for the Equitable stock is a trifle over 4 per cent above the book value as of April 1.

Negotiations for the purchase of the Equitable were begun about two weeks ago and by May 27 it is hoped to have all of the stock in hand. Notice of the action of the majority of the stockholders was sent yesterday to the owners of outstanding shares, and letters were mailed to the depositors and customers explanatory of the merging of the companies. The business of the Equitable will be transferred to the establishment of the Guarantee company at 232 Fourth avenue, and will be conducted by the latter, beginning with tomorrow. Many of the employes of the Equitable will be retained.

Equitable Organization Kept Up.

At the meeting yesterday of the stockholders of the Equitable company the organization of which will have to be kept intact because of trust estates it holds, the following directors were elected: John P. Hunter, James W. Houston, Charles E. Dickson, Frederick L. Eldridge, James Evans and James B. Eisaman, who were members of the old board, and Joseph R. Paull, Frank L. Phillips, J. M. Hastings, W. H. Self, H. P. Pears, J. E. Ash, Julian Kennedy, John Bindley and I. W. Frank. The officers chosen were: President, James B. Eisaman; vice president and treasurer, Frank L. Phillips; secretary, Charles A. Lawrence; attorneys, Schoyer & Hunter.

The Equitable Trust Company was incorporated on January 5, 1898, with a capital stock of $250,000. In 1901 the capital was increased to $750,000, new shares being sold at $150. According to the statement of business issued on March 31, 1906, the surplus and undivided profits were $306,877 69, and the deposits $1,146,875 56. The statement for the trust department was: Mortgages, $895,740 70; stocks, bonds, etc., $165,855 58; real estate, $210,000; cash, $82,080 74; total, $800,779 02.

Organization of the Guarantee.

The Guarantee Title and Trust Company was organized on August 11, 1899. In 1901 its capital was increased from $125,000 to $250,000, and in 1905 it was further increased to $1,000,000, new shares being sold at $200. In 1903 it absorbed the Moreland Trust Company and Standard Security Trust Company, and gained control of the Iron City National bank. Less than two weeks ago, on March 29, after being secured by the Mortgage Banking Company, the Guarantee took over the Mortgage Banking Company's deposits. The officers of the Guarantee are Joseph R. Paull, president; John Bindley, vice president; Frank L. Phillips, vice president and treasurer; Samuel H. McKee, vice president; Alexander Dunbar, secretary; Joseph H. Frost and James T. Wachob, assistant treasurers; Samuel L. Dillie, trust officer; Archibald A. Stewart, manager title department; J. L. Koethen, Jr., title officer; Henry C. Boyd, manager bond department.

Other Banks Elect Directors.

The annual election of directors of the Mortgage Banking Company was held yesterday afternoon. Owing to the fact that the company has transferred its banking business, several changes were made, including the consolidation of the offices of secretary and treasurer and reducing the number of directors by one. Frederick C. Bolcata was elected to the directorate and also to the position of secretary-treasurer, while Samuel Garrison and S. A. Renner retired as directors. The new board of directors is as follows: P. V. Rovnianek, A. P. Howard, W. B. Lawton, George H. Lepper, W. K. McGinness, P. C. Walker, Anthony Schaub, J. W. Grier, J. H. Canfield and F. C. Bolcata. P. V. Rovnianek was re-elected president, and Anthony Schaub, vice president.

At the annual election of directors for the Anchor Savings bank, held yesterday afternoon, D. P. Black and W. S. Van Dyck were elected directors to succeed G. C. Dellenbach and Edward H. Straub. The new board is as follows: Maj. A. M. Brown, John D. Brown, R. J. Steney, Jr., George W. Eberhardt, W. D. Henry, Theodore F. Straub and Henry Kaufmann.

Fire Causes Loss of $1,000.

A two-story frame building at 2602 Forbes street, belonging to Thomas Scully and containing the grocery store of James Keane on the first floor, the second being occupied as a residence by Thomas King, was damaged $1,000 by fire yesterday morning.

ONE IS KILLED IN FALL OF BUILDING

Floors of Partly Razed Liberty Avenue Structure Go Down.

CRASH COMES SUDDENLY

One man was killed and three injured in the collapse of the building at 622 Liberty avenue, about 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

THE DEAD.

ITALIAN, known only as "Nick." Body removed to the morgue.

THE INJURED.

JOHN SAVO, cut about head and bruised about the body; injuries dressed by ambulance surgeon; sent to his home, 90 Logan street.

THOMAS BEVARQUA of Laurel avenue, thought to be injured internally; able to go home.

UNKNOWN ITALIAN, fell from fourth floor to top of pile of debris; slightly bruised and disappeared as soon as he got out of the ruins.

For several days the contracting firm of James Stewart & Co. has had a force of men at work razing four buildings at 622, 624, 626 and 628 Liberty avenue. The roof and the fifth floor had been removed from No. 622. The other floors were weakened by being cut up for hatchways, elevator shafts and stairways, and some of the joists had been sawed partly off so as not to endanger the wall of an adjoining building. The top floor gave way suddenly and crashed down, carrying with it the floors beneath, the whole mass of debris filling the front part of the building from the basement almost to the second story. According to the statement of a member of the contracting firm, only about half a dozen men were at work in the building when the crash came and all have been accounted for. Nick's body was found shortly afternoon, wedged under debris in a corner of the cellar.

Great excitement followed the collapse of the building, first reports of the number of fatalities being greatly exaggerated. Police reserves from central station roped off the whole row of buildings and kept the crowds back, but traffic in Liberty avenue was tied up for several hours.

James Stewart of the contracting company in charge of the work, gave out a statement yesterday afternoon. "The accident was unavoidable and so far as I can learn was due to no one's carelessness or negligence. The building was an old one and the floors had all been cut up for hatchways and other openings necessary for the removal of the wreckage. The report that the fourth floor was overweighted with bricks and lumber is incorrect, as the stuff was thrown down the chutes as rapidly as the work of demolition progressed. The vibration of a building as old as this one is considerable and the fact that a freight train passed along Liberty avenue just before the accident occurred may have had something to do with it."

Building Inspector S. A. Dies is making an investigation of the accident, but had no statement to give out last night regarding it.

REPORT INSTITUTION TO BE FREE OF DEBT

Homeopathic Hospital Trustees Make Final Payment on the Mortgage.

At the annual meeting of the Homeopathic hospital, held yesterday afternoon, announcement was made that during the past week the last payment on a $19,000 mortgage that had been standing for 20 years was made, and that the institution was now free from debt. The following trustees were elected for a three-year term: J. W. Pew, W. H. Schoen, R. W. Bailey, L. P. Hays, D. G. Stewart, J. B. McClelland, W. W. Blair, M. D., and G. A. Mueller, M. D.

A. R. Peacock, chairman of the building committee, reported that plans for the proposed new hospital at Center and Aiken avenues, were completed, but that contracts would not be let until the present buildings in Second avenue are sold. The site for the new buildings cost about $125,000, and it is expected that this will be more than realized in the sale of the present buildings. The new hospital will cost something like $800,000. During the session yesterday R. B. Mellon was elected a life trustee and George Peck was elected a regular trustee in his stead.

The executive committee reported that 3,600 patients had been treated last year, an increase of 584 over the previous year. The mortality rate was but 4.72 per cent. Total cost of maintenance for the year was $65,185.

Miss Ida F. Giles, who has been superintendent of the nurses' training school for nine years, resigned on account of failing health. Thirteen nurses will be graduated tomorrow night, and in this connection special exercises will be held in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church.

Various reports showed the institution to be in excellent financial shape with an endowment fund of $171,906.40. The annual address to the trustees was delivered by the Rev. Dr. David R. Breed.

HOLDUP MAIL CARRIER.

Trio Warns Federal Employe He Will Be Killed if He Resumes Work During Coal Strike.

POTTSVILLE, PA., April 10.—(Special.)—Postmaster G. C. Schrink today wired the general postal authorities at Washington, D. C., of the daring holdup of James J. Denapoli, the rural free delivery mail carrier, whose route lies from the Potisville office through the Mt. Laffee mining district, stating that the route would be closed until the government acts.

Denapoli was stopped at Mt. Laffee by three men, who called him a "scab" for working during the colliery suspension. The carrier explained his position as a government employe and was permited to finish his route. He was stopped again by the same men, who warned him not to make another trip else they would blow up his wagon with dynamite, while bullets would put him out of commission.

The Western Pennsylvania Historical Society held a monthly meeting in Carnegie library, Allegheny, last night, with T. S. Rodgers presiding. A copy of the "Weekly Advocate and Statesman," bearing the date of August 17, 1857, which had been received through the mail, formed the topic for general discussion. The Rev. Jesse P. Martin read a paper entitled "An Historical Pilgrimage," bearing on the old Braddock and Forbes roads.

TEXAS CAME SINGING OWN ANTHEM, WEARING A HALO

Congressman J. Adam Bede Likens Lone Star State to Young Woman Who Told the Minister He Need Not Call.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—J. Adam Bede, congressman from Minnesota, during the debate in the house on the post-office appropriation bill today without regard to the merits of the pending bill, provided himself with a text for a speech by having read a resolution creating four states out of the state of Texas.

Mr. Bede said he had voted ever since he came to congress for the fast mail subsidy because he believed the people of the south ought to read the northern newspapers at the earliest possible moment, and he would continue to vote for the appropriation that the southern people might have the benefit of the doubt. Speaking of his resolution, he said:

"Texas has in a single century paid allegiance to five flags—Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the confederacy and now the United States."

He said that the state had its own constitution. "She came to us with a history of her own. She came singing her own national anthem with the Alamo a halo 'round her head."

Texas, he said, was loved more by its people than they loved Uncle Sam, which he said he did not object to very much.

"Texas is an empire," Mr. Bede remarked and "is a fellow by itself," which reminded him of a Duluth girl who had gone to a new church. She worshiped with the congregation and after the services the minister came down to the door and met the young lady. The minister was delighted with her presence at the church and holding the young lady by the hand said:

"It would give me much delight to call upon you in a few days."

"You don't need to," she replied, "I have already got a fellow."

Incident to a review of the situation garding the statehood bill, Mr. Bede said that the way to make a United States senator honest as a public official would be to give him enough salary to live in Washington decently. He remarked that under the beneficent effects of the Dingley tariff there was nobody in the Duluth district who wanted to come to congress to succeed him as they were all making more than $5,000 a year.

COLLUSION AGAINST THE CITY IS DENIED

Union Storage Official Says Company Acts Independently of Pennsylvania.

The report that the Pennsylvania railroad is in collusion with the Union Storage Company to prevent the removal of its tracks from Liberty avenue, is denied by C. L. Criss, secretary of the storage company, who states the tracks can be taken from Liberty avenue from east of Fourth street to Eleventh street without conflicting with the suit brought by the storage company against the Pennsylvania railroad.

The storage company has asked for an injunction to restrain the removal of the tracks in Liberty avenue at their connection with the storage company's switches. It has been reported that if the injunction is granted the city could not compel the railroad company to take up the tracks in any part of Liberty avenue, but this Secretary Criss denies.

"The railroad company could connect its elevated tracks with our plant by extending a line along the surface of the street from Water street where the elevated structure will end," said Mr. Criss. "The talk that the storage company is aiding the Pennsylvania to keep its tracks down in Liberty avenue is all moonshine. Of course we will look out for our interests and take whatever action may be necessary. Nothing new has been decided upon, however."

The agreement between the city and the Pennsylvania people provides for the removal of the Pennsylvania tracks clear from Water street to Eleventh street. No reply has yet been received by Mayor Guthrie or Director Clark to the notice sent on April 6 to the Pennsylvania to remove its tracks within 30 days. It is stated the city cannot be stopped from tearing up the Liberty avenue tracks unless it is made a co-defendant with the Pennsylvania railroad in the Union Storage Company suit, by a supplemental bill.

Director Clark yesterday received from President Callery a letter stating the Pittsburgh Railways Company would comply with the order to re-locate its tracks in Liberty avenue and stating that the company stood ready to act as soon as the railroad tracks were removed.

PUBLIC HEARING OF BRAHM'S CASE COMING

License Court Will Learn How Many Hotels Meat Man Is Interested In.

License court still has under consideration the matter of A. L. Brahm, one of the applicants for a retail liquor license for the Hotel Newell, who is charged with owning stock and being directly interested in other hotels which have made application for retail liquor licenses. Attorney Paul S. Ache presented a petition to court yesterday in which A. B. Shuster requestes that the controversy over the Hotel Newell be given a public hearing in court. He asks that George Schmitt of the Nixon restaurant, James Riley of the Hotel Schenley, A. L. Richmond of the Hotel Lincoln and Frank C. Smith of the Hotel Colonial, be called as witnesses. The court fixed immediately after the hearings of the regular list as the time for a hearing in the matter.

Shuster filed an affidavit when the retail list was first taken up, alleging Brahm owned stock in the Newell, Schenley, Nixon restaurant and the Lincoln hotel. This was denied and Brahm was compelled to file an affidavit and set forth all his stock transactions. He gave this information to the court and requested that it be not made public as it was his private business relations. The court did not file the papers, but this public hearing will bring out all the matters therein contained.

The court heard 113 cases yesterday and expects to finish the entire wholesale list today. If so the Brahm case will be taken up Thursday morning.

During the day Judge McClung took up the question of selling beer in prohibitory districts about McKeesport, and warned all that violations of the spirit of the law, on advice of attorneys, will have as much effect with the court as the violation of the letter of the law. He also said he would refuse applicants for new licenses unless they went after the old licensees who violate the laws.

STRAIN CAUSES INJURY.

Well-Known Dream City Employe in a Dangerous Condition Because of Over-Exertion.

William C. Brockmeyer, a well-known theatrical man, received injuries at Dream City, now being built on the Verona road, that are expected to result fatally. Brockmeyer's injuries were received in a peculiar manner. He was employed at the new amusement resort as general storekeeper, and in addition had charge of the immense supply of lumber.

Last Friday when Brockmeyer returned to the park after a two days' absence, during which he buried an infant son, he began rearranging the lumber supply that had been disturbed during his absence. In endeavoring to lift a heavy timber he strained himself so badly that he was found later in a helpless condition and had to be removed to his home at 108 Pride street. Brockmeyer's wife is also in a serious condition.

Brockmeyer was formerly a bass singer and has been associated with some of the best operatic combinations in the country.

After having laid for six months under a board walk in Bellevue, a hand satchel stolen from Mrs. Clara Shiras of 6 Colonial place, was found last evening and will be returned to the owner today. Matthew Baird, a Bellevue workman, was tearing up the sidewalk in Fremont street when he discovered the satchel, covered with mold and mildew. In it were a purse, containing 70 cents, a check for $12.25, a handbook, a red plush handbag and a notebook. The handwriting had been partially obliterated by rain. Mrs. Shiras, who is the wife of Attorney W. K. Shiras, expresses amazement at the recovery of the satchel. It had been stolen from the Shiras porch last October and in addition to the articles found had contained $7.

LENT IS CLOSING WITH HOLY WEEK

A Period of Strict Fasting and Prayer and Ancient Ceremonies by Catholics.

PROGRAM IN THIS DIOCESE

Following Palm Sunday, which ushered in holy week, Roman Catholics began an even stricter observance of the regulations of Lent. This is the week in which fall Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday, each peculiarly sanctified as anniversary days of Christ's agony and crucifixion. Each day is commemorated with solemn ceremonies.

Today begins the ceremony of the tenebrae, when, amid the prayers of the faithful, the illuminated triangle is reared before the altar, the lighted candles afterward being extinguished one by one. In all the churches the stations of the cross are recited nightly for the rest of the week.

Holy or Maundy Thursday, the day of the institution of the last supper, is supposed to be commemorated by all good Catholics in the doing of acts of charity and humility. Mass will be celebrated tomorrow in the Church of the Epiphany by Bishop Canevin. The Rt. Rev. Joseph Suehr will be the assistant priest, the Rev. Charles Lang the first deacon of honor, the Rev. P. Quilter the second deacon of honor, the Rev. Thomas Devlin the deacon of the mass, the Rev. V. Masselli the subdeacon of the mass, and the Rev. Miles Sweeney the master of ceremonies. At this mass Bishop Canevin will consecrate the holy oils.

During this mass at the Gloria in Excelsis the bells will ring for the last time, until on Saturday morning they are run again. Following this custom the angelus and all the church bells will remain mute for the same length of time.

On Good Friday is the day of the mutilated mass, when, in commemoration of the death of Christ, the church mourns. The altars are draped in black and in all the churches the faithful approach to kiss the crucifix.

On Holy Saturday the bells are again rung at mass and the church bells break forth, as if rejoicing in their renewed liberty. On this day the fire and the paschal candle are blessed.

Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday are strict days of fasting in the Catholic church. Catholics are not supposed to attend worldly amusements in Lent, and very few go to the theater in Holy week.

Good Friday will be observed in the Episcopal and Lutheran churches with solemnity, and banks and stock exchanges throughout the country will be closed on that day.

MAYOR REFUSES A HORSE AND BATH AT CITY'S COST

Mr. Guthrie Declines the Perquisites of Office—Opposed to All Kinds of Passes.

The perquisites of office do not attract Mayor Guthrie. When the mayor was informed by Edward Ward, superintendent of horses, that a fine nag awaited him whenever he desired to take a drive, he replied he preferred to use his own horse and not one bought by the taxpayers.

When told there was a private bath reserved in the public safety building for the mayor's exclusive use, he answered: "I have a bath at home."

Former Mayor Hays was a visitor to the public safety baths every Saturday afternoon and liked them so well that he issued cards of admission to the baths to members of councils. A grateful councilman one day presented a resolution in councils to extend Mayor Hays a vote of thanks, but President Ward thought he detected some sport in the resolution and declared it out of order.

The new mayor has also refused to apply for theater tickets, which have been granted for the mere asking to the city executives. It is stated that Mayor Guthrie will insist upon his subordinates following his example by refusing railroad, theater, baseball or street car passes or any other favor that might affect the public service.

WOULD PRESERVE TREES.

Women Enlist Aid of Governor in Movement Opposing Distruction of Park Beauties.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 10.—(Special.)—Gov. Pennypacker has pledged his support to the movement started by the civic club, composed of Harrisburg's foremost women, to protect the trees in capitol park from destruction. To a committee of women who called upon him today the Governor said he took great interest in preserving these trees and would do everything in his power to prevent them from being destroyed.

Joseph M. Huston of Philadelphia, architect of the new capitol, has suggested that the trees in the park be cut down in order to show off the building to better advantage.

WORKMEN WILL BENEFIT.

Pennsylvania Railroad Continues Its Employes on Full Time After Brief Layoff.

PHILADEDPHIA, April 10.—The Pennsylvania railroad officials issued orders today placing the 10,000 maintenance-of-way employes between this city and Pittsburgh on full time. They have been working but 25 hours a week since April 6.

The reason given for the return to the old hours is that there is little danger of a general coal strike. It is said that the output of the bituminous mines now amounts to about 90 per cent of the normal production.

Automobile Runs Down Two.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Two laborers, Frederick Schuetz and John Neuel, were run down today by an automobile while crossing Michigan avenue at the intersection of that street by Peck court, and sustained injuries that may prove fatal. The automobile is owned by T. A. Stevens and was driven by Alexander Huff, a colored man.

Noonday Meetings Draw Well.

The attendance at the noonday meeting in the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church is growing. The address of Dr. C. W. Blodgett on the question of Pilate, "What Shall I Do, Then, With Jesus?" was very practical and forceful. Dr. Wedderspoon will address the meeting today at 12 o'clock.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J. McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

JOLLY GOOD WAR TO SECURE LOAN

FRANCE WOULD FINANCE IT

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
(Copyright, 1906, by New York Herald Co.)

BERLIN, April 10.—The former Russian minister of finance, M. Kokovsoff, arrived this morning from St. Petersburg, and he leaves this evening for Paris. He is traveling with a direct commission from the Russian government to arrange the new loan in Paris.

Rumors from St. Petersburg and London, regarding the causes of the German non-participation in the loan, are mostly devoid of foundation. The decision was arrived at mainly as a result of the financial considerations, it being apprehended that the new German loan of 6,000,000 marks, now about to be floated might not receive adequate support.

The bankers here are greatly disappointed, but even among them several have expressed the opinion that they would not feel justified in earning their commission, by encouraging small capitalists to invest in Russian stocks at present. The following story is being told here; it comes from St. Petersburg:

"Count Witte at a recent private dinner bluntly stated that the real remedy for the Russian financial predicament would be 'a jolly good war' between Germany and France, when Russia would be able to obtain any amount of money from France, on the plea of mobilizing on Germany's eastern frontier, although, he added, this step would only be a make-believe. This statement can be vouched for although it is not known whether the statement was intended to be taken seriously.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS ASPHYXIATION CASE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., April 10.—Shortly after noon today the police of Hollywood, a suburb of this city, were notified that a 14-year-old boy named Raymond had been murdered and his mother, Mrs. Kate B. Raymond, wife of a government employe at Washington, D. C., fatally injured at the family residence, 657 Selma street.

The police hurried to the house and found the body of the boy lying in the bed dead, from asphyxiation. The mother was also lying in the room unconscious from the same effect. She is expected to recover. The mother and son have been in Hollywood for several months, living in apparent affluence. Nothing is known here concerning the woman's husband. It has not been determined whether it is a case of murder or not.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Frank Kellog Raymond, the husband of the Mrs. Raymond who, with her child, was asphyxiated in her home at Hollywood, Cal., received a dispatch from that place announcing the death of both mother and child. Mr. Raymond leaves here for Hollywood tonight.

Mr. Raymond is a clerk in the stationary division of the interior department. He is a native of Indiana, but was appointed to the government service from Kansas.

In speaking of the tragedy tonight Mr. Raymond said he was unable to account for it. His wife was in excellent health so far as he knew and he doubted the suicide theory. He was prostrated by the news. Mrs. Raymond has been residing at Los Angeles for the past five years with her son Frank W. Raymond, her only child, and spent three months during the past winter visiting friends in this city. Her mother and brother live at Los Angeles.

ICE IS BEING DELIVERED.

Arguments for Injunction Backed by Testimony of Driver Who Was Beaten.

Ice was served yesterday by the several ice companies in Pittsburgh to all their customers, notwithstanding that the drivers are on a strike. An official of the Consolidated company stated last night that not one customer was overlooked. He also stated that the report that a co-operative company had secured wagons and was peddling ice was not a fact. The striking drivers say none of the men have returned to work and that they are well satisfied with the situation.

Arguments in the injunction proceedings of the Ice Manufacturers' association to restrain the members of Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers Local Union No. 414, from interfering with its business, were heard in common pleas court No. 2 before Judge Young. The court took the papers in the case and an opinion will be filed later. Previous to the hearing a driver testified that he had been beaten by strikers at the market house.

SECURES TRACTION LINE.

Representative of Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Gains Control of Pennsylvania & Ohio Electric Road.

L. A. Robison of this city, general passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, secured control of the Pennsylvania & Ohio Traction Company yestreday, presumably on behalf of the railroad. The deal is expected to include the Ashtabula & Lake Shore railway and the summer resort of the Woodland Beach Company at Ashtabula harbor within a few days.

It is rumored that the Ashtabula Rapid Transit Company, which operates the Ashtabula city line, may also join the merger. Mr. Robison will become president of the affiliated companies.

The Pennsylvania & Ohio Traction Company has a capitalization of $700,000 and a bond issue of $600,000. It operates 27 miles of traction road between Jefferson and Conneaut harbor, and has charter rights to extend to Ashtabula, Painesville and Geneva.

REFUSES A MERGER.

Gov. Pennypacker Expresses Himself Concerning Corporations and Their Charters.

HARRISBURG, April 10.—In refusing an application for the consolidation and merger of the Hummelstown Water Company and the Hummelstown Electric Light, Heat and Power Company, Gov. Pennypacker today filed a long statement to the effect that the constitution provides that no corporation shall engage in any business other than expressly authorized in its charter.

"If corporations," says the governor, "could be chartered in such a way as to permit them to carry on any kind of business, or if by legislation they could be authorized to conduct all kinds of business, then this provision of the constitution would be without significance and have no practical result."

Continue Vaccination Crusade.

Continuing the vaccination crusade begun Monday night in order to reduce to a minimum the chances of a spread of smallpox, City Physician Booth and his assistants, accompanied by a detail of policemen, last night visited a number of lodging houses in the First and Fourth wards, where the men live who work on the rivers. Particular attention was paid to the negro lodging houses.

Cook's Hearing Is Postponed.

The hearing of Lemert S. Cook, charged with aiding and abetting the late T. Lee Clark in the misapplication of funds of the Enterprise National bank, was postponed until 11 a. m. today. The hearing scheduled for yesterday was not held, because of the absence of United States Commissioner Lindsay.

DEGENERATE INSTINCTS REMOVED BY KEEN KNIFE

Surgeon Performs Operation on Boy Who Was Incorrigible and He Is Reclaimed from Vicious Life That He Was Leading.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

TOLEDO, O., April 10.—By the means of the surgeon's knife the complete transformation of the character of Harold Hurley was performed. Hurley, who is but 12 years old, was a thoroughly bad boy, and was sentenced to the reformatory about a month ago. Before he was sent, somebody who knew that he had once sustained a fracture of the skull, advised his mother to have an operation. This was done, and just four weeks ago a piece of bone was removed which had been imbedded in the boy's brain.

Today he was discharged from the hospital thoroughly cured. When he was but 5 years old he fell, fracturing his skull. After that fall his character became the most vicious. He would abuse his parents, and evidenced absolutely no love or affection for them. On several occasions he has jumped out of a second-story window, ran downtown and spent the night prowling around and sleeping in alleys.

The juvenile court gave him up as a bad character. Now the boy has completely changed. He is kind and loving to his parents, and evidences absolutely no desire to run away. He was taken home several days ago for a few hours, and his mother says he is even changed in appearance.

Drs. Peter and James Donnelly and Dr. William Humphrey, who performed the operation, say the pressure of the splintered bone on the brain dulled all the lad's higher sensibilities, and that it was but the question of time till he became an utter degenerate.

BELLEVUE MEN TO USE A BIG STICK

Property Holders Protest Vigorously Against Erection of an Electric Distributing Station.

EXCITING TIME IN COUNCIL

Citizens thronged the Bellevue council chamber last night to protest against the erection of a distributing station in Bellevue by the Philadelphia Company. A largely signed remonstrance was presented. Councilman David Hubley scored the Philadelphia company, and urged keeping the station out. H. D. Watson, a large property owner, said he intended erecting fine houses in the neighborhood of the proposed plant, but would not do so if the station were built. F. Frederick said he had visited similar plants and found nice neighborhoods had been turned into dumping grounds. H. M. Lewis, who once lived near a distributing station, said he had been obliged to putty the windows twice a year, the dishes rattled in the kitchen and he had to move away. Councilman Hubley shouted:

"We will go after them with the big stick, and a confounded big one, at that."

This caused applause, and Chairman Newell threatened to clear the room.

R. S. Orr, representing the Philadelphia company, said the station was being erected for railway power and lighting. He said the present general plant of the Ohio Valley Light Company is to be abandoned and the proposed sub-station would receive its power from Brunots Island. The company, he said, would put up a substantial building and the transformer would be of improved design and practically noiseless. But the spectators jeered as he took his seat.

After two hours of wrangling the council agreed to meet representatives of the Philadelphia company at its office tomorrow afternoon, along with Bellevue property owners, and see if the question can be adjusted amicably.

The election of policemen for the ensuing year was taken up, and for the first time Bellevue will have a chief of police, John Morrison. Three patrolmen were elected. The Bellevue Realty and Trust Company was elected as borough depository. The treasurer's bond was fixed at $5,000.

COL. VANCE STILL HOPEFUL.

Head of Ohio Valley Improvement Association Explains What Congress Is Likely to Do.

Col. J. L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, is in Pittsburgh on business connected with the association. The next meeting of the association will be held in Portsmouth, Ohio, some time in October.

Col. Vance predicts that there will be no legislation this year favorable to the 9-foot stage, Pittsburgh to Cairo movement. An emergency bill, however, he thinks, will be passed, in connection with the civil sundry bill that will provide for completion of all the work now under way and for keeping the river free of obstructions.

"There will be no appropriations made for new work," he said, "but the board of engineers appointed by congress—one member is Major Silbert, is making examinations and will report to congress its recommendations. Then at the next session of congress we may get something."

Col. Vance thinks that the association is in better shape than ever before, and that it will eventually accomplish the purpose of getting a 9-foot stage to Cairo. He was much amused over a recent publication in a Pittsburgh newspaper that waterways would never be able to compete with railways in this rapid age. To offset this Col. Vance made the statement that a tow of coal could be taken to New Orleans and the empties returned before a train of loaded coal could be taken to that city. This, he said, was not applicable to express business, but to freight of all kinds.

FENDER DOES ITS WORK.

Boy Is Caught, but He Struggles Out and Loses a Leg.

Thomas Connor, the 4-year-old son of Peter Conner of Wood alley, Braddock, was struck by a street car last night and his right leg was so mangled that it will have to be amputated above the knee. He was playing in Braddock avenue when, in trying to avoid a westbound car, he ran in front of an eastbound one. The boy fell in the fender, but his struggles rolled him out and under the wheels. He was taken to Mercy hospital.

TRAINMEN ARE HELD RESPONSIBLE BY JURY

BUTLER, PA., April 10.—(Special.)—The jury empanneled by Coroner Walter S. Patterson to investigate the wreck of the Baltimore & Ohio and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh freight trains at Renfrew Saturday in which Brakeman Edward Hartman of the Baltimore & Ohio train lost his life, returned a verdict this evening charging the wreck to the negligence of Engineer James Blaisdell and Conductor H. L. Ward of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh train in carelessly reading the wrong train orders.

LEAVES GUESTS TO TAKE HER LIFE

WAS BRIDE OF FOUR MONTHS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., April 10.—Mrs. Kathryn Pickard Anderson, the pretty 17-year-old girl wife of Joseph Anderson, ended her life this afternoon by drinking carbolic acid. No cause but that of illness whtch had affected her mind is assigned. She left no message and had not hinted that she contemplated suicide.

Mrs. Anderson was a bride of but four months, and her home life had been happy. Last Christmas a pretty romance led to a quiet wedding at her parent's home. Her father is N. Pickard of Beaver Falls. Anderson furnished a comfortable home on Oak Hill, New Brighton.

The young wife took dinner with her parents today, going to her home soon after. About 3 o'clock, while her husband and several guests were in the parlor, she drew a small bottle of carbolic acid from her shirtwaist. Holding it up so her husband could see, she said:

"Joe, what do you think of that?"

Then she ran swiftly upstairs. He followed, but when he reached her side she had nearly drained the bottle. Dr. Spencer P. Simpson was summoned, but she was beyond help. So agitated did the husband become that it was feared that he would do himself injury.

Anderson says his wife had been acting queerly for three or four days. As she was leaving her parent's home at noon she said: "Good-by, I am going home to take some medicine for my cold."

This led to the suspicion that she had taken the acid by mistake, but Coroner J. S. Wade, who made a thorough examination, pronounced the case suicide.

BAILEY MAKES GREAT ARGUMENT

Texan Supports His Amendment to Rate Bill to Prohibit Injunctions.

KNOX CONGRATULATES HIM

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Senator Bailey of Texas, the leader of the Democratic party on the floor of the senate, today answered the criticisms of Senators Spooner and Knox on his proposition to prohibit temporary injunctions in the provisions of the Hepburn rate bill. For more than four hours he held the undivided attention of the senate and the crowded galleries, quoting decision after decision to sustain his contention, and to the lay mind he made out an excellent case. But the lawyers were not so much impressed by his arguments. They were familiar with the citations he brought forward, and they did not all place the same construction upon them that he did.

When Senator Bailey concluded his speech he was greeted with the greatest demonstration that has been accorded any senator who has addressed that body this season. He closed with a beautiful peroration, one that did not apply directly to the question in dispute, though it was one to appeal to the popular fancy. As he closed the galleries broke into a loud applause, and men and women joined in handclappings that could not be stilled by the rapping of the vice president's gavel. Senators gathered about him and shook his hand, extending their congratulations upon his speech, though they did not generally agree with his logic.

Senator Knox walked over and grasped the Texan by the hand and expressed his appreciation of the speech. The two have a high regard for each other, though they represent opposite views upon the question pending.

Mr. Bailey's argument was the distinction that Senators Spooner and Knox made between the terms "jurisdiction" and "judicial power." He declared that there was no appreciable difference between the meaning of the two terms and proceeded to read from numerous supreme court decisions and text writers in support of his theory that congress has the right to prohibit temporary injunctions and otherwise limit the judicial power of the court. During his argument he laid down one proposition and said:

"Would the senator from Pennsylvania dissent from that?"

Whereupon Senator Knox rose in his place and said:

"Does the senator wish me to reply now or at another time?"

"Perhaps I did transgress the rule of debate," replied Mr. Bailey, "in asking the direct question of the senator."

Mr. Knox took his seat, after showing that he was ready to reply to Mr. Bailey's argument. There were very few interruptions of the speech, one of them being by Senator Hale of Maine. He rose to state that he had been very much impressed by the argument of the Texas senator and to announce that he was convinced that the congress had the right to restrict the power of the court. Incidentally he thought the speech had cleared the way for an early and beneficent solution of the problem before the senate.

Mr. Hale was the only senator who apparently had been converted by the address of Mr. Bailey. Others did not appear to have been impressed except with the eloquent and excellent presentation of the case. Mr. Spooner will reply to the Texan probably tomorrow, and Mr. Knox will also have some remarks to submit in reply to the questions addressed to him during the progress of the debate. It was the opinion of the leading lawyers of the senate that while Mr. Bailey made the most of his case, he did not present any new features and that nothing had been intruduced by him to change the opinion they had previously held.

INSPECTORS SEIZE GOODS.

Articles Said to Have Been Smuggled Ashore from the Oregon Are Taken.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Smuggled goods of considerable value which were brought to this city on the battleship Oregon were seized by the United States government inspectors today at a local freight shed. Among the goods were pieces of valuable silk, many curios and expensive china sets, along with high-priced specimens of ivory.

The customs house officials are pursuing their inquiry and expect to make other seizures. They have sent telegrams to many places asking that suspicious packages be intercepted and held until an investigation of their contents can be made.

ADMISSIONS OF PERJURY MADE IN PATRICK TRIAL

Witness Brought from Philippines Claims Jones Told Him He Testified Falsely in the Rice Murder Trial—Thinks He Was Crazy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 10.—Corporal Alexander B. Stanberry of the Thirteenth United States infantry, testified today that Charles F. Jones, the valet of William Marsh Rice, had admitted to him that he testified falsely in the trial of Albert T. Patrick, expecting that the jury would discredit his testimony and allow Patrick to go free. Corporal Stanbarry declared also Jones had said if he were sure he would receive only a light sentence for perjury he would come north and "tell the truth."

The testimony was given at a hearing on the question whether Patrick shall have a new trial on the charge of the murder of Rice. Stanberry was brought from the Philippines to give his evidence for Patrick, who is now under sentence of death. Stanberry testified Jones was his roommate when he made the admissions.

District Attorney Jerome questioned Stanberry during this part of his evidence. After the soldier had said that previous to 1897 he had been employed by Rice, Mr. Jerome asked him if he believed Jones murdered Rice. The witness said he did not. He also said he believed Jones was insane.

Mr. Jerome asked about the witness meeting with Jones on September 6 last year. Stanberry said Jones had then told him that Capt. Baker had said if he could get Patrick "stuck on the murder of Rice," he, Jones, would go free.

"He continued to room with you after that; did you consent to associate with a man who attempted to swear another man's life away?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"He told me afterward both he and Patrick were innocent. He asked me if I believed he was a murderer when he gave the testimony. He told me he lied so much he thought no jury would believe his testimony, and he expected he wouldn't be believed and Patrick would consequently go free."

STEEL AS CHEAP HERE AS IN FOREIGN LANDS

E. S. Cramp Denies That There Is Any Difference Between Foreign and Domestic Prices.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The expected testimony before the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries regarding the cost of American steel at home and abroad was forthcoming today when Mr. E. S. Cramp of the Cramp shipbuilding firm testified at length in favor of the ship subsidy bill.

There was at present, he said, absolutely no difference between the foreign and domestic price of steel. This statement made the steel question one of brief discussion. In 10 years Mr. Cramp said this government had expended $11,000,000 in purchasing foreign merchant ships for war purposes and the ships thus acquired had been "rotten." They were known in shipping parlance as "floating coffins and whitewashed traps."

An appointment has been made to hear E. H. Cory, president of the United States Steel Corporation tomorrow.

DOCTOR TELLS OF JUTTE'S ILLNESS

Partial Hearing Held in Suit to Recover Millions from Hoffstot and Friend.

NEGRESS PUTS IN DEFENSE

Judge Shafer held a partial hearing yesterday in the equity suit of the Colonial Trust Company, the Mercantile Trust Company and Mrs. Jane C. Jutte to restrain F. N. Hoffstot and James W. Friend from selling what they claim is property belonging to the W. C. Jutte estate, and to recover several millions said to have been procured by the defendants through fraud. The taking of testimony was not finished and the case will go on again today. Mrs. Jutte was an interested spectator during the proceedings. She is represented by W. M. Galbraith, B. M. Ambler and Weil & Thord, while James H. Beal of the firm of Reed, Smith, Shaw & Beal, is looking after the interests of the defendants.

The lawyers exchanged some plain talk. A. Leo Weil declared that the auditors had been tricked. He alleged they had been promised full access to the books and did not get it. Mr. Beal said the auditors had been allowed to go over the books as far as they concerned any transactions with the C. Jutte company. The various agreements made between Jutte and the defendants were referred to by Mr. Weil, who said no sane man would have done as Jutte did. Mr. Beal said every action taken was legal and that when Jutte applied to the defendants for help he was facing bankruptcy and the penitentiary.

Dr. Rinehart Tells of Jutte's Condition.

The first witness examined was Dr. C. C. Rinehart. He described Jutte's illness which he and Dr. Pennington of Atlantic City had agreed was softening of the brain. He first saw him in December, 1901, and later advised him to go to a sanitarium. From January 6, 1902, to July 10, 1902, he attended Jutte constantly. Jutte was nervous and afraid his mind would give way. At Atlantic City, before the attempt to commit suicide was made, Jutte saw handwriting on the wall and was afraid he would die. In July the witness accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jutte on an European trip. Jutte improved physically, but not mentally. At no time after his malady became serious was he capable of transacting any business requiring consecutive thought, according to Dr. Rinehart.

The affidavit of Drs. B. C. Pennington and T. C. Catherwood of Atlantic City, who attended Jutte while at that place, in December, 1901, was offered as evidence. This affidavit was taken by A. M. Heston, city controller of Atlantic City, who is also a notary public, on December 5, 1901, at Jutte's hotel. Both physicians sign it and declare under oath that Jutte was compos mentis or sane enough to execute a power of attorney or sign deeds and papers.

Controller Heston of Atlantic City, who took the affidavit of the physicians, identified the document and after considerable wrangling and objections of Attorneys Weil and Beal, Heston was permitted to say that in his opinion Dr. Pennington was a capable physician. When asked to state whether he thought Jutte capable of transacting business he said that several instances that came under his notice lead him to believe Jutte was "queer." Heston repeated a conversation he had with Dr. Pennington when he presented his bill for taking the affadavit.

"Dr. Pennington," said Heston, "when he saw the bill laughed and remarked, 'Say, Heston if you don't learn to regulate your bills better than you do, I will begin to think you are as crazy as that man upstairs.'

"What do you mean by that?" Heston says he then asked Pennington. "'Oh, that fellow is suffering from delusions,' said Dr. Pennington, 'he is a millionaire, but thinks himself a poor man. Why he has got $2,500 in his pockets now.'"

Heston after testifying to several unimportant matters regarding the affidavit was excused as he wished to return to Atlantic City.

Hattie McIntyre's Defense.

The jury in the case of Hattie McIntyre, the colored woman who is being tried for the murder of Harry Fisher, an aged Hebrew, was still out when criminal court adjourned last evening. In her defense the woman said she had been hired by Fisher to do the housework and light the fires on Saturdays, and that while engaged in this work she had been attacked by the old man and had been compelled to handle him roughly to save herself from assault. This defense is thought to be most remarkable when the fact is considered that the defendant is a very powerfully built negress, and the dead man was so old and feeble as to be scarcely able to walk.

The case against Frederick S. Smale, charged with shooting Claude W. Barnhart, whom he found in his home, was again postponed because Barnhart has typhoid fever.

The opinion of the supreme court in the suit of Henry Firestone against the First Slavish Roman Catholic Greek Rite church of Duquesne Firestone possession of the church property bought at public sale.

Edwin L. Harmon entered suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to recover $50,250 for injuries received in the Harrisburg wreck of May 11, 1905. Harmon claims $50,000 for his injuries and $250 for the loss of jewelry and wearing apparel.

Ida Patsch Wants Her Children.

Ida J. Patsch applied for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain possession of her two children, Nellie, aged 16, and Allen, aged 14, inmates of the Home of the Friendless, in Allegheny. Mrs. Patsch states that the children have been in the home since February, 1897; that she is divorced from her husband, who is unfit to care for them, and that the home authorities are willing to let her have the children.

James B. Anderson presented a petition for the appointment of an inspector to investigate conditions in the school board of Shaler township. The court designated C. E. Theobald and instructed him to make his report in 40 days. The necessity of a new school building is the issue.

HAIR TURNS GRAY DURING ONE NIGHT OF SLAUGHTER

Russian Refugee Tells of Agonized Suffering of a Party of 48 in an Underground Pen Where They Had Fled for Safety.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 10.—On the Austrian steamship Dora, in port today from Trieste and Palermo, was a young Russian whose snow white hair was in striking contrast to his otherwise youthful appearance. Asked about this peculiarity the new arrival, Morris Leokovitz, told how in a single night during the massacres in Odessa, his black head of hair had been so suddenly transmuted.

"We were huddled, 48 of us," said Lebkovitz, "in a little underground chamber, compared to which the terrible Black Hole of Calcuttia was as nothing. The room was scarcely 10 by 12 feet square, and the atmosphere was suffocating. The 48 of us, among whom were my wife and children, remained in that underground den for 36 hours. Above us we could hear the cries of those who were being slaughtered by the Cossack guards and the shots fired into the crowd of defenceless women and children.

"One woman and her two young children were suffocated to death in that room. That was after we had been in the place only a few hours, and for nearly the entire 36 hours we hid in the cellar we had to keep the bodies of the woman and the children with us, for there was no way of getting them outside without disclosing our hiding place to the soldiers.

"My hair turned white over night. I had black hair and you see it now. It was not fright, but the most intense mental suffering, that caused it to turn and I was frightened when I beheld myself in a looking glass after we could leave our underground retreat in safety."

Lebkovitz was accompanied by his seven-year-old son. He left his wife and his little daughter in Russia with friends far removed from the scene of the recent massacres, until he could make a home for them in America.

FACTS OF INTEREST IN THE HAGENBECK CIRCUS

Splendid Entertainment Promised Those Who Attend Tent Show on Winebiddle Grounds This Week.

There are some very interesting facts concerning the Carl Hagenbeck circus, which is to exhibit on the Winebiddle avenue grounds in this city tomorrow and Friday.

It is a new and gigantic circus enterprise in its first year, although it in part dates from the Chicago World's fair.

Hagenbeck has become justly famous on account of his trained wild beasts.

At Hamburg, Germany, the Hagenbeck headquarters contain thousands of all varieties of wild beasts.

Hagenbeck is the wild animal monopolist and supplies all the circuses, zoos and menageries of the world.

Since 1893 the Hagenbeck trained wild beasts have been exhibited in America. This year they are part of an immense circus of 65 railroad cars which has been organized as a new American amusement enterprise.

All the usual circus features are to be seen, including the aerial, acrobatic, equestrian and other acts.

Three rings, two stages, an aerial enclave and the big steel arena for the wild beasts are all shown in continual operation. There will be 25 displays of five acts each, making 125 acts in which over 700 human and animal performers will take part.

The Hagenbeck circus is the one big circus that is not in the circus combination. Hagenbeck has supplied every other circus in the world for the past 50 years. Now he is in the circus business for himself.

Two million dollars of American capital is invested in this new enterprise. Everything is new and up-to-date from the smallest tent peg to the three trains of 64 cars.

The many circus appendages which in the past have given many a show a black eye, have been cut out entirely from the Hagenbeck performance.

Parade at 10 a. m. tomorrow over the following route: Liberty street to Fifth avenue, to Smithfield, to Liberty street, to Eleventh street, to Penn avenue, to show lot.

PRICES ON COAL ARE BECOMING HIGHER HERE

Inquiry Improves and Many Operators Quote $1.25 a Ton at the Mines.

Conditions in the Pittsburgh coal district showed material improvement yesterday, owing to better inquiry by consumers, which is being aided by the shutdown in the Clearfield district. It was reported, but not confirmed, that a contract was made with an Altoona buyer yesterday at $1.60 a ton, while Philadelphia was reported to be quoting as high as $2 a ton. However, some of the largest local operators yesterday expressed a willingness to book contracts of $1.25 at the mines, which price leaves a good margin of profit over those existing several weeks ago. There are several large local industrial corporations in the market at this time.

A meeting of the directors of the Pittsburgh Coal Company was held yesterday afternoon, but it was reported that nothing but routine business was discussed. Chairman Francis L. Robbins is still detained at his home by illness. The rival executive boards of the Pittsburgh district of United Mine Workers of America held meetings simultaneously yesterday in adjoining offices in the Kuhn building, Diamond street. The feature of the dual sessions was the fact that A. J. Kwaterski, who was elected on the new board at the recent special election, and who was also a member of the old board, side-stepped the Feehan board and met with Patrick Dolan in the session of the old board.

The two boards met to arrange for a conference with the operators on the dead work scale and other concessions not included in the original 1903 scale. There is a question among the operators which board to recognize in signing up agreements on these points. Dolan still holds to the theory that he is president of the organization, while Feehan points to the fact that Dolan was deposed by the local organization and set aside by the national officers. While the operators will not predict which board they will recognize, it is generally believed that the new Feehan board will be selected because of the precedent established by the independent operators in sending for Feehan when they were ready to sign up the 1903 scale. Should the operators demand that these two boards settle their differences between themselves, before recognizing either, agreement on the concessions would be delayed.

Bank Clerks Hold Smoker.

The Pittsburgh chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks had a housewarming in their new quarters in the Wabash building last night, which was attended by 300 members and guests. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Henry W. Temple of Washington and Jefferson college, and W. S. Van Dyke, while instrumental, vocal and violin selections and monologues were part of an interesting program. President Frank M. Pollard presided.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 10.—Before most of the members of the Illinois legislature, which adjourned today in honor of the Pirates, the Pittsburgh barnstormers defeated the Illinois team of the Three-I league 5 to 3 here today. Representative McNichol, who put the motion to adjourn in the legislature, officiated as umpire, and he gave a much better exhibition of playing last year when with Des Moines than he did in handling the indicator this afternoon.

Oberlin, the new Pirate twirler, who pitched here last year, was on the rubber the first five innings for the visitors, and allowed only one hit. Moskiman took his place and seven hits and three runs were made off his delivery. He was in a bad hole once in the seventh inning, with men on second and third, when a hit would have tied the score, but he managed to pull out.

Playing for runs was again done by the winners, four sacrifice hits being used to advance men on the bases, two in succession in the first inning sending Clarke from second to home after he had started off with a two-bagger. Joe Nealon put up a good game on first base, and cracked out two two-baggers. It begins to look stronger every day that he will hit for the Pirates in the championship games.

Ganley, in right, had four putouts, one of which was a difficult one up against the fence. Wagner was all over his position, but could not do anything with the bat, the crowd yelling loud when he was struck out by Hudson, who looks like a promising pitcher with lots of speed and good curves.

Twice the Pittsburghs fell down in trying their signals between the base runner and the batter, the runner being caught both times. In several other instances, however, they worked to perfection. Tomorrow the Pittsburghs play at Decatur, it being the last exhibition game before they open the season at St. Louis Thursday. Score:

EXPERT BILLIARD PLAYERS AT WORK

Slosson and Sutton Each Win a Game in the International Tournament.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Three games have been decided in the world's championship 18-2 billiard tournament which is in progress at the Madison Square garden concert hall. Louis Cure of Paris has lost two games and his prospects for winning any of the first three prizes are not very bright. Two games were played today, in the first of which George F. Sutton, formerly of Chicago, defeated Albert C. Cutler of Boston by 500 to 220. Sutton made the highest run of the tournament so far, his top figures being 116 and 109.

In the second game George Slosson of this city defeated Louis Cure, the French expert, by the score of 500 to 351. Slosson's high run was 107, but he ran out the game in 33 innings, making the high individual average of 21 17-33.

Cure led from the first to the 11th inning but Slosson passed him in the twelfth. The Parisian again assumed the lead with a fine run of 65 in the 14th inning, but had to relinquish it when Slosson gathered the spheres for 107 points in his 17th turn at the table. Other runs of 73 and 35 and an unfinished run of 60 gave the local man the game. Three and four-cushion caromers and open nursing shots were the features of Slosson's play, while the Frenchman excelled in fine nursing and draw shots for position.

Tomorrow afternoon Jacob Schaefer of Chicago will meet Morningstar and in the later game Willie Hoppe, the world's champion 18-year expert, will cross cues with Albert G. Cutler of Boston. Following are the scores in tonight's games.

Slosson—2, 14, 21, 14, 5, 0, 4, 9, 20, 41, 27, 26, 3, 3, 1, 1, 107, 27, 73, 7, 0, 35, 60.—Total 500. Average, 21 17-23. High runs, 107, 73, 60.

George Sutton, who has gained an international reputation as a billiard expert, defeated Albert G. Cutler of Boston in the afternoon game by a score of 500 to 220. Sutton gave a fine exhibition of his skill, his two highest runs being 116 and 119, with an average of 20. Cutler made several spurts, his best efforts netting him 81, 50 and 40 respectively. The Boston man was outclassed, however, as Sutton's wonderful shots and deft nursing gave him a commanding lead early in the game. The score by innings:

Sutton—5, 0, 0, 6, 109, 5, 1, 0, 14, 30, 0, 17, 53, 0, 55, 1, 116, 5, 1, 51, 1, 4, 43, 3.—Total 500. Average 20. High runs, 116, 109, 55.

Tenny's Men Score Three Runs and Capture Game from the Collegians.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRINCETON, N. J., April 10.—The Boston National league club had to play ball all the way this afternoon to beat the Princeton nine, which had Don Doyle, the Pittsburgher, on the rubber. The score was 3 to 0, and the Nationl leaguers had to work to the sixth inning before they scored two runs. Then in the next round they got another, but after this Doyle held them in check. The game was played in a rain, which made the handling of the ball difficult. Young and Lindeman worked the game on the rubber for the big leaguers, and they allowed but one hit, which was secured by Doyle, who sent out a line drive for one base. The score:

DECIDING MATCH

The next and deciding match between the Federals and Ungers will take place next Wednesday on the Federal alleys.

For the second time the Braddock alleys were crowded to the doors by enthusiastic spectators to witness the important match game between the Federals and North Braddocks for the championship of the Allegheny County league. All the games were close and exceedingly interesting. Every bowler was on his metal and did his best, in order that his team would be victorious. All three games depended on the last two frames, and neither team was on easy street until the totals were chalked up.

The Federals captured two out of three games but all along realized that they were up against worthy opponents and as the scores will show, the Federals were doing their best and were only successful in defeating the North Braddocks by 36 pins in totals.

Harry Harris was the bright shining star in the first game and all credit is due him that the Federals won. Harris started the game with 54 strikes and finished with the splendid score of 247, which is the best made in the championship series to date. He also came out with the fine average of 200 2-3.

For North Braddock Higgins was the boss bowler with two double centuries and also the best average made in the series, 204 1-3.

Most all the participants did their duty and registered their customary averages. The other bowlers worthy of mention are Gerstbrein, Hornick, A. Hahn, Schad, W. Seng and Callahan.

In the summary Federal made five more errors than North Braddock and four less railroads. The strike and spare results were about equal. Scores:

The thirty-seventh round of the Allegheny County Pool league was played last night and the games were very close and hard fought. The Olympias, the leaders in the race, came in from McKeesport, and were walloped by the champion Vorwercks by the score of 100 to 65. The fine and steady playing of Paul Vorwerck of the Vorwercks, with 63 balls, was the cause of the downfall of the proud Olympias. Wild and Elson also played a safe and steady game. Paul had high score for the Olympias, with 30 balls.

The Federal and Swissvale game went to the Federals by the onesided score of 100 to 57. This victory for the Federals puts them on a tie with Olympia for first place, and it now looks as if Federal were in the way to the pennant. The star playing of McCabe and Glass, with 41 and 40 balls respectively, was the feature of this game. Glass had a continuous run of 34 balls, and that is going some. Campbell of Swissvale had high score for his team, with 31 balls.

The Demmel and Union game was won by Union by the score of 100 to 81. This was a surprise, as the Demmels were expected to win, but seem to have lost their gait, and have dropped two games in a row. The feature of this battle was the great playing of Black of Union, with 71 balls, and a continuous run of 51 balls without a miss. Aul had 34 balls for Demmel.

The contest between Glenwood and Garfield at Glenwood was won by Garfield by the close score of 100 to 98. This game was a heart-breaker for the Glenwoods, as they had the lead by 98 to 90, but the fine finish by Kid Yahring of Garfield finally landed the plum for Garfields. He also had high score with 35 balls. Meehan of Glenwood also played nice pool and pocketed 41 balls for his team.

The game between Primrose and Arlington was the closest of the evening, the Arlingtons finally winning out by the close score of 100 to 99. The features of the game was the strong playing of Miller of Arlington, with 76 balls, and Sweeney of Primrose with 79 balls. This game was by far the hardest fought battle of the season. The Primrose had the Arlingtons by the score of 99 to 87, but Miller of Arlington landed the last 13 balls and victory.

The Friendships put it on the crack Crescents by the score of 100 to 95, this was a surprise as Crescent felt confident of a victory. The star playing of Frankhauser with 45 balls was the feature, Cronin of Crescent had 47 balls for his team.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL NEWS

The Shadyside academy nine will be called upon Saturday to play its first game of the season when it will meet the Washington and Jefferson college team at Washington. The academy team should be in fairly good condition by the end of the week, as Capt. Lally and the coaches have been drilling the candidates all along. It is likely that Ches. Babst will do the pitching against the collegians.

Bob Patterson has been elected captain of the Shadyside academy hockey team for next season. He and Stolzenbach are the only players of last season's team who will be in school next year. Patterson plays right wing, and he was one of the best players developed in the league the season which just closed.

The prospects of Waynesburg college bid fair to surpass previous years. Among the old candidates who show promise are Cowan, Buchanan, Barb and Girard. The new ones are Fisher, Dobbs and Dougherty. The pitching staff will be quite strong in Cannon, Williams, Dobbs an Groff. Following is the schedule: At home—April 20, Bethany college; April 28, W. and J.; May 5, W. U. P.; May 8, Indiana Normal; May 10, Braddock Steel Works; May 12, West Virginia university; May 23, Grove City college; May 24, Westminster college; May 30, W. and J. FOLLOWERS OF THE HOUNDS

CASTOR GETS THIRD PLACE

WASHINGTON, April 10.—A fair day, both as to weather and sport, were the characteristics of today's racing at Bennings. Two features were offered, the Southern steeplechase—a pink coat handicap for hunters qualified under the rules of the National Steeplechase and Hunt association—and the Amateur cup, a high-weight selling race for 3-year-olds and upward at 40 pounds above the scale. The former was the notable attraction, and proved to be the best running of the race ever witnessed. The riders are all experienced followers of the hounds and handled their mounts admirably. As they swept around the course they were cheered constantly by the throng in the grandstand and clubhouse, Game Cock, with L. Evans up, was the favorite, and Oleroso, with Mr. Smith in the saddle, was a strong second choice. These two led the way, taking the last hedge nearly together. Oleroso then drew away from Game Cock, and until the last 100 yards he seemed certain to win, but, with a fine ride, Mr. Evans just managed to get the decision for the favorite by a nose.

Castor was made a lukewarm favorite for the Amateur cup and, until the horses turned into the stretch, he looked like a winner, but there he was overhauled by Paeon. The weight told on the latter, however, and Paprika, coming fast, barely passed the tiring leader as they swept past the judges. The favorite was third.

Phoebus, who one several occasions during the present meeting has been just good enough to get into the money, finally found a soft spot in the sixth race, and in a stirring drive at the finish won it from the favorite, Grand Duchess, with Setauket third.

The first race was a romp for The Clown, although Waddell II., as good as 100 to 1, gave the favorite an argument in the stretch and beat Loricate for the place.

The second race, a maiden 2-year-old event, was won handily by Woodline, who had been made a strong choice. The favorite, Merrie Lassie, did not figure in the result. Windfall got the place and Wabash Queen showed.

The Wrestler won the third race in a drive from the favorite, Tieing, while Encore was third. The track was soft and the going heavy. Summaries:

First race, 6½ furlongs, Columbia course, 3-year-olds and up—The Clown, 94 (Miller), 7 to 10 and 2 to 7, won; Waddell II., 108 (Christian), 100 to 1 and 20 to 1, second; Loricate, 115 (Helgesen), 60 to 1, third. Time—1.25. Blue Coat, Beilsnicker and Warning also ran.

Evans), 7 to 10 and out, won; Oleroso, 135 (Mr. Smith), 9 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Iron Heart, 142 (Mr. Devereaux), 12 to 1, third. Time—5:36. My Grace (Mr. Parrott) fell.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs, Columbia course; fifth running of the Amateur cup, a high-weight selling race for 3-year-olds and upward, at 40 pounds above the scale—Paprika, 125 (Mr. Tucker), 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Paeon, 136 (Mr. Nicholas), 2½ to 1 and even, second; Castor, 159 (Mr. Dion Kerr), 9 to 5, third. Time—1:21 2-5. Monadnock, Thomond, Trapezist and Sir Brinkley also ran.

Dunn-Decker Bout is Postponed.

SHARON, PA., April 10.—The bout between George Decker of Philadelphia and Jimmy Dunn of New Castle, which was scheduled to take place at South Sharon April 16, has been postponed to April 28. Decker wired Manager Dave Stairboll of the Nonpariel Athletic club today that he injured one of his hands in a fight at Philadelphia last night.

NORTHERN OHIO'S TROTTING CIRCUIT

Is the Old Pittsburgh Association With Same Dates and Few Members Less.

A new Northeastern Ohio trotting circuit has just been formed at East Liverpool. It takes the place of the Pittsburgh, Monongahela & Ohio Valley, organized earlier in the year at Pittsburgh, with Monongahela, Greensburg, Dawson, Johnstown, Kittanning, Conneaut Lake and Imperial left out. Considerable wrangling over dates arising particularly over dissatisfaction with the ones assigned to Beaver Falls took place at the Pittsburgh meeting. The formation of the new circuit means the dissolving of the Pittsburgh one. It is probable that Greensburg, Johnstown and a few other places will get together and form a new circuit.

John C. Collins, who acquired the Monongahela track this spring, said last night that there will be no meeting at Monongahela this year. It is understood that no certainty of freedom from interference with pool selling was the cause of abandonment of the Monongahela meeting.

Dr. Frank McFarland, of East Liverpool, is the president of the new Northern Ohio circuit, and L. H. Yost of Canton is the secretary. Dates were assigned as follows:

Salem, Ohio—June 18-22.
Rockport, Ohio—June 26-29.
Canton, Ohio—July 3-6.
East Liverpool, Ohio—July 10-13.
Beaver Falls, Pa.—July 17-20.
Salem, Ohio—August 21-24.
Canton, Ohio—September 4-7.
Wheeling, W. Va.—September 11-14.
Canal Dover, Ohio—July 24-27.
Wooster, Ohio—July 31-August 3.
Rockport, Ohio—August 7-10.
Steubenville, Ohio—August 28-31.
East Liverpool, Ohio—September 24-27.

It looks like a Grand Circuit meeting at Cleveland this year as practically certain. David Shaw, the Pittsburgh horseman, has just offered $1,000 as a purse for the meeting and those who will give the meeting will add another $1,000 to it.

Director J. W. Clark told a committee yesterday from the Schenley Maiinee club to hold their matinees until further notice on the Schenley oval on Wednesdays instead of Saturdays. The club had voted at a recent meeting to change the matinee day from Wednesday to Saturday but will now have to go back to the old day.

A number of Pittsburgh horsemen were in New York recently where they met quite a gathering of matinee club members. The race for the gold cup at the coming intercity matinee meeting in Pittsburgh was freely discussed. It was the consensus of opinion that C. K. G. Billings who will send Major Delmar for the cup at Pittsburgh is not very sportmanlike in doing so. They think this horse stands out by himself, there is not a trotter that can approach him in the world, and in the interest of sport Mr. Billings should send another horse after the trophy and not content himself with an uneven contest. The cup was won last year by S. A. Pickering's Dr. Strong. Cleveland has two legs on the cup and only needs another for absolute ownership. Other gossip in matinee circles says that Pittsburgh will send horses to the Boston intercity matinee meeting this year.

Start Movement for New Building.

A novel campaign for securing funds for a new building was inaugurated last night at the Central Young Women's Christian association, 120 Fifth street. The president, Mrs. John G. Holmes, presided. Mrs. Frank G. Bryce, the first vice-president, has charge of the campaign and it is the first movement to securing funds for the erection of the new building. The ground was purchased for $71,250 and is paid for. It is in Chatham street near Fifth avenue. The meeting was most enthusiastic and 100 self-supporting young women have undertaken to solicit contributions from the self-supporting women in the two cities and the suburban towns in this vicinity. It is proposed to erect a $200,000 building. The method of procedure is as follows: Ten captains are appointed and each captain selects nine young women, making a company of 10—these companies are composed entirely of business and professional young women. Each of these 100 young women has a book containing 50 receipts for shares in this new building, the value of each share being 25 cents and it is hoped that every self-supporting woman will feel impelled to contribute to this fund. If by any omission she is not approached by any one of these young representatives of the association, she may call at the office, where her contribution can be left with the secretaries in charge. The list of names in the 10 companies is as follows:

Company A—Miss Annie E. Wallace, captain; Misses Belle Ryckman, Sarah Kirk, Jessie Bain, Florence Lewis, Esther Brandt, Van Orsdell, Alexander, Alice G. Miller, Elizabeth Kirkwood.

Company B—Miss Jessie Wachob, captain; Misses Annetta Wade, Estella Hoffman, Anna Hinchman, Mary Eccleson, Maud Viers, Olive Waddell, Helen J. Marquis, Anna McFerron, Mrs. Annie Q. Saunders.

Wimodausis Elects New Officers.

The scene as the tellers of the Wimodausis club yesterday counted the election ballots, was not unlike that at any polling place where the contest has been close and interest high. The occasion was the annual election of the Wimodausis club in Syria temple, and for the directors alone no less than 1,400 votes were counted, 140 women each voting for 10 directors. The tellers surrounded three large tables upon which the ballots were counted as rapidly as possible. The election for president occasioned intense interest, as several candidates were in the field, and the two first named withdrew. The result of the balloting follows: President, Mrs. Charles E. Smith; first vice president, Mrs. John Porter; second vice president, Mrs. John Reed; recording secretary, Miss Mary Steele; corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. J. Evans; treasurer, Miss Lulu Yoder. The 10 members of the board of directors elected include: Mrs. Louis Rott, Mrs. Reese Lindsey, Mrs. James Sprague, Mrs. David Wilbert, Mrs. W. E. Gelston, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Nell McKee, Mrs. J. R. Mumford and Mrs. W. J. Sharpless. The club also elected the following delegates to attend the biennial of the General Federation of Women's clubs in St. Louis: Mrs. D. W. Rankin, Mrs. Sophie Miller, Mrs. J. C. DeNoon, Mrs. W. E. Gelston. The following are to be the delegates to the State Federation meeting in October: Mrs. Charles E. Smith, Mrs. C. C. Wylie, Mrs. W. E. Gelston and Miss Mary Steele. The alternates will be Mrs. James H. Orr, Mrs. John H. Armstrong, Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Charles Frazee. Because of the long election all other business was postponed until the next meeting of the club. The retiring president, Mrs. John H. Armstrong, will leave April 26 with the Shinrats for the trip to the Yellowstone park, but expects to return in time to complete arrangements for the reception which the club will give on Wednesday afternoon, May 22, in the Hotel Anderson during the annual conclave of the grand commandery of the Pennsylvania Knights Templar.

Present Crisis in France.

The Rev. George T. Berry, secretary of the McAll association in this country, spoke yesterday afternoon in the Twentieth Century club before the Pittsburgh and Allegheny auxiliary. His subject was "The Present Crisis in France," and he described the effect of the recent separation of church and state, which has affected both the Roman Catholic and the Protestant churches in France, the former losing more, but the Protestant churches, because poor, suffering almost equally with the richer ones. The Protestant churches alone lost in subsidies $300,000 during the past year. Mr. Berry had expected to spend a week in Pittsburgh, but the local auxiliary could not make arrangements at the present time, and instead is planning to have him return in the late fall or winter, when he will spend some time here. Mr. Berry, who recently received his present appointment, was a classmate of Dr. Maitland Alexander at the Princeton Theological seminary. He will sail June 6 for France, where he will spend four months studying at close range the exact situation and becoming thoroughly conversant with every aspect of the work of the McAll mission. He was in Pittsburgh only a few hours yesterday, stopping off on his way to Cleveland, O., where he will be the guest of the auxiliary of that city. The local auxiliary has just closed its financial year, and during the past year raised $1,000, which exceeds by $125 the amount raised the previous 12 months. It closes its books at this time, though its annual election occurs in the fall, in order that it may report at the annual meeting of the association, which will be held in Minneapolis, Minn., May 16, 17 and 18.

National Officer Indorses Memorial.

Miss Mathilda Orr Hays has just received a letter from Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Warren, O., secretary of the National Suffrage association, indorsing the movement started in this city for the erection of a statue to Miss Susan B. Anthony in Washington, D. C. To Miss Hays belongs the credit for originating the idea of a monument to Miss Anthony in the rotunda of the Capitol as a companion statue to that of Miss Frances Willard placed there by the state of Illinois. Mrs. Upton heartily approves of the suggestion made by Miss Hays at the memorial meeting of the Allegheny County Equal Rights association three weeks ago, and asks to be kept informed as to the progress made. Plans for fully launching the movement will be acted upon at the regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny City Suffrage club, which will be held tomorrow evening with Miss Hays at her home, 5 Forest avenue, Bellevue. Miss Hays is making her home with the family of her brother-in-law, the Rev. A. H. Jolly. Those from the city attending the meeting should take the Bellevue car and leave it at the first stop beyond Rodgers avenue, Bellevue. A great deal of interest is being taken in the proposed memorial and Miss Hays has received letters from different people, some offering suggestions and asking for information, while a number have indorsed it.

Union Meeting of Suburban Clubs.

The committee appointed to arrange for the annual union meeting of the suburban women's clubs of the Monongahela valley met yesterday afternoon in Horne's parlors. Mrs. C. C. Huff, chairman of the committee, presided, and preliminary arrangements were made for the next meeting, which will be held on Thursday afternoon, November 8, in Homestead, the Women's club of Homestead being hostess of the other clubs of the valley. It is expected that some notable speakers will be secured for the occasion, and the address will be made the special feature of the day. The entire program will be shorter than heretofore and more time will be given to the social side of the union meeting of the clubs, as the principal object of these gatherings is to promote acquaintanceship and sociability between the club women of the several represented towns. As each club will have a delegate in attendance at the annual meeting of the State Federation in October, who will report the proceedings of that body to her own club, it was suggested yesterday that no report of the State Federation be given at the union meeting. Seven clubs are included in the circle of organizations represented in the union meeting. The delegates attending the committee meeting yesterday were Mrs. C. C. Huff and Miss Martha McClure of the Woman's club, Homestead; Mrs. J. D. Arnold, Woman's club, Wilkinsburg; Mrs. John Hastings and Mrs. Arch. Powell, Woman's club of McKeesport, and Mrs. Semmens of the Woman's Improvement society of Turtle Creek. No representative was present from the Woman's club of Braddock, the Woman's club of Edgewood or the Prytaneum club of Homestead.

Want Data on Club Houses.

The proposition regarding the erection of a woman's building for the use of the clubs and other women's organizations in Pittsburgh and Allegheny was brought before the Travelers' club yesterday afternoon. The president, Mrs. W. P. Price, spoke on the subject and it was decided to lay the matter over until the next meeting in order that additional data regarding the erection, cost and maintainence of club houses for women in other cities might be secured. The meeting of the Travelers was held in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association, Mrs. John M. L'Amour being in charge of the program. In addition to the papers, Mrs. William Macrum gave a very interesting report of the starting of the sewing school under the auspices of the club in the Good Hope Presbyterian Mission at Penn avenue and Twenty-fourth street. Twenty-five children have been constant in their attendance since the opening day. The class meets only on Saturday afternoons. Mrs. Macrum is assisted by several other members of the club. Mrs. Harvey McKinney read a paper on the "Japanese Emperor and His Court." Mrs. Edward A. Jones talked on "Eminent Men of Japan," and read a paper prepared by Mrs. Theodore Slicker on the "Modern Japanese Nobles." "Thinking in Japanese," an extract from Brownell's "Heart of Japan," was read by the leader, Mrs. John L'Amour. An additional feature consisted of the informal talks which Mrs. Alfred E. Clark and Mrs. Henry J. Bailey gave, which were reminiscent of their stay in Japan last summer.

Canvassing Homestead.

For a week past the members of the Woman's club of Homestead have been thoroughly canvassing the town in the interest of the establishment of kindergarten work in that place. The work will be continued throughout this week. The purpose of this systematic canvass of every family in Homestead is to ascertain how many children would be permitted to attend a kindergarten if one were opened. The Woman's club a few weeks ago presented a petition to the school board of Homestead asking for the opening of a free kindergarten. The matter was laid on the table to be taken up at some future time. In the meantime the club women propose showing a demand for such a school and have undertaken to canvass the place in order to show how great that demand is. It is not yet known whether it will be possible to open a free kindergarten or a private school, though it is hoped the former may be secured. The report of the canvassers will be made to the club next Monday.

Excursion to Yellowstone.

Circulars were received in the city a few days ago describing the special excursion through the Yellowstone park, which has been arranged for the convenience of women attending the eight biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs in St. Paul, May 31 to June 7, inclusive. The excursion will start June 3, the day after the close of the biennial, and will take nine days, the cost being less than $100. Miss Eliza O. Denison, president of the Woman's Press club of Pittsburgh, has been appointed by Miss McKnight special press agent for this locality, and further information can be obtained from her. Miss McKnight hopes that the names of all club women—delegates or alternates—who are planning to attend the biennial, will be sent to her as soon as possible.

Mrs. Montgomery Coming Home.

Word has been received in Pittsburgh that Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery will reach Pittsburgh next Sunday or Monday. Mrs. Montgomery, accompanied by Miss McCord, has been abroad since the first of March for a much-needed rest. She expected to sail from Naples, Italy, 10 days ago. Mrs. Montgomery is the chief probation officer of the juvenile court of Allegheny county, Miss McCord being one of her assistants. Last evening Miss Edith Behrhorst, one of the other eight officers, left for Chicago, accompanied by a party of three children, whom she is taking to the home in Council Bluffs.

Mrs. Pauline Look gave a piano solo. The next meeting will be held April 24 at the new Penwood club house. Rabbi J. Leonard Levy will lecture in the evening.

Breakfast Table Thoughts.

When a woman reads of some other woman whose genius has made her rich and famous, she reflects that her husband does not appreciate what a greater mark she could have made had she remained single or married some other fellow.

The woman who doesn't want what she hasn't got, has all she wants and is happy.

Tears may beautify the heart, but never the face of woman.

A lean compromise is far better than a fat lawsuit.

Faith is food as well as medicine.

You may get honey from a rock, but only glucose from flatterers.

There are a lot of people so perfectly good that they can't give the rest of us the credit of being pretty good.

The flowers of triumph are too frequently watered by tears.

Anxiety and ennui are the pencils time uses to draw lines on the human countenance.

Your troubles are rarely interesting unless you are rich.

Many of our best home ties look very much like mother's apron strings.

THE GAZETTE FHSHIONS.

SIMPLICITY COMBINED WITH CHIC.

In the scale of fashion this charming frock meets an ideal of justice, for balanced with utmost beauty and chic, is a moderate expense, which makes it possible for anyone to duplicate the design. It is developed in directoire blue French batiste, artistically trimmed with German valenciennes insertion and ruffles of lace to match. The insertion forms a scalloped pattern on the gauged skirt, the points of which dip down to ruffles of lace set conventionally above the hem. The decorations are repeated in the bodice and sleeves, and there is a girdle of pretty blue silk.

Directoire blue is the latest in the way of smart colors, and has already set itself up against empire green as a rival. It is that clear, pale blue of the sky always to be seen in a bright summer sky, but by some turn of the manufacturer's art a clouded effect is given the surface of many of the semi-transparent fabrics shown in this color. Certainly it has no place in the directoire modes, for it embodies the latest achievements of colorists of today. Directoire blue combines effectively with mauve, green and the cream tints.

Amateur Candy Making.

Have everything in readiness before beginning.

Use only granulated sugar for boiling; confectioner's XXX for kneading.

All butter should be especially sweet and fresh. If you have not unsalted butter, wash thoroughly to remove salt from what you use to grease the pans.

When brushing the pans for nut candy, use oil instead of butter.

Heat all nut kernels before adding to the candy.

Always use a wooden spoon or spatula and a long needle—a darning needle or knitting needle—when handling balls or squares of candy.

Mold on a marble slab whenever possible.

Never handle more than is absolutely necessary. Candies lose transparency by handling or delay.

Never stir sugar and water after the sugar is dissolved. Wipe down the granules that form on the edge of the saucepan.

Learn to distinguish between the temperature when the liquid will feather, ball, crack and caramel. These temperatures range betwen 230 and 260 degrees, and a little experience determines the point for each as well as a thermometer.

If a liquid flavor makes the fondant too soft, add confectioner's sugar.

Work in flavorings and colorings by hand.

To keep candy place between layers of oiled paper in tin boxes.

THE GAZETTE PATTERN.

((No. 5035.) Ladies' Low-Necked Night Dress.

Sleeping garments having low neck and elbow sleeves are very popular this season; they are certainly graceful and becoming. In the dainty model shown here there is no opening; the gown is slipped on over the head, and the fulness adjusted by means of ribbon-run beading. Hand embroidery is always a favorite decoration for fine underwear, but Point de Paris, torchon and valenciennes lace would be pretty and serviceable. Linen, nainsook, longcloth, silk and lawn are suggested as suitable materials for the making. The elbow sleeve may have a deep fall of lace, or be simply finished by a band of insertion or beading. The medium size requires five and three-quarter yards of 36-inch material.

Ladies' low-necked night dress No. 5035: Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44-inch bust measure.

An Exhibit Worth Seeing.

Under glass and carefully framed, there is exhibited in the window of the Sorosis shoe shop a copy of the Massachusetts Spy and Worcester Gazette of January 8, 1800, containing an account of the funeral of George Washington. It also tells of the action taken by the different foreign countries on Washington's death and paragraphs relating to observances in the larger cities of the United States. This interesting souvenir has been a valued heirloom in the family of A. E. Little, of A. E. Little & Co., makers of Sorosis shoes, for many years.

You can always depend upon it. Pilens positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

TRAFFIC MEN ARE CALLED TO ANSWER

Interstate Commerce Commission Begins Inquiry Into the Railroad Business.

COAL AND OIL ARE OBJECTS

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—(Special.)—The interstate commerce commission, acting under a joint resolution of congress, approved by President Roosevelt, today began an investigation in this city to ascertain whether railroads directly or otherwise have any interest in the coal or oil which they transport as common carriers.

The hearing began at 11 o'clock, with Messrs. Knapp, Prouty, Clements and Cockrell, members of the commission, present. Upton H. White, the statistician of the Tidewater Steam Bituminous Coal Traffic association, was the first witness. In answer to Mr. Glasgow the witness said the association was made up of the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, the New York Central's Beech Creek division and the Philadelphia & Reading railroads.

He said the executive committee of the association consists of Mr. Searles of the Pennsylvania, Mr. Herman of the New York Central, Mr. Savant of the Norfolk & Western, Mr. Jones of the Reading, Mr. White of the Baltimore & Ohio, and Mr. Whitaker of the Chesapeake & Ohio. Those named are the coal traffic managers of their roads.

J. G. Searles, coal traffic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, testified that a statistical bureau was maintained in Pittsburgh for the purpose of compiling statistics of coal moved to the west and middle west. In reply to a question by Mr. Glasgow the witness said the parties to the all-rail association are the Pennsylvania railroad, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, and some of the Ohio roads. He said the Chesapeake & Ohio road was not a member, but he was not sure as to the Norfolk & Western.

First Vice President Voorhees of the Reading company was called. He said his company got its coal from the Fairmount Coal Company and Somerset Coal Company of Shippensburg. The company, he said, paid $1 80 or $1 90 a ton. He admitted the company also purchased coal from the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania railroads.

W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, was called, and promised to furnish the commission with a statement showing how much coal his company purchased, and from whom. It was shown the association was organized February 15, 1896, and that during the same month and year the Pennsylvania, the New York Central, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western railroads signed agreements of membership. The by-laws indicated the association did business in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Newport News, Elizabethport, Harsimus, Port Reading, St. George and other ports.

It was brought out that the traffic association was organized that rates might be fixed and adjusted and mutual protection afforded.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

of Pittsburgh, Fourth avenue and Wood street, of Alleghe

TIGHT MONEY CONTINUED; STOCKS RULED FEVERISH

Final Prices Were Well Above the Lowest of the Day—Government Crop Report Not So Favorable—Local Stocks Dull and Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Money continued tight in Wall street yesterday and the stock market was decidedly feverish. The street is beginning to abandon the theory that the money market is manipulated—or at least, that the high rates are entirely the result of manipulation. However, it is puzzled to account for the absence of gold imports in volume when rates for sterling exchange, which again declined sharply yesterday, are so much below the level at which gold has heretofore come here freely. Our foreign trade balance is large, but foreign bankers appear reluctant to permit the yellow metal to flow hither, although they are not averse to loaning their credit here at the relatively high rates now prevailing.

The rates for call loans yesterday ranged between 15 and 25 per cent, with an average of 20 per cent for renewals. The highest rate for the day was quoted late in the afternoon and the final loan was at 20 per cent. Traders have alternately chosen the morning and the afternoon for the renewing of loans, and each day have been compelled to pay the highest average rate. Time loans have also ruled higher in Wall street than in interior markets. Altogether the money situation is abnormal. A third of the month of April has now passed with the average rate on call loans not much if any below 15 per cent. This will raise the general average for the month, and the increased cost of carrying stocks is causing liquidation by numerous bull pools, while the decline in prices is discouraging to fresh commitments on the part of the public.

The London market for American securities opened firm and higher, but the strength was not reflected in Wall street. The market here, however, held fairly steady up until 1 o'clock, when it turned decidedly weak. Representative stocks like Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific broke from 3 to 3½ per cent from the high level of the morning, and the rest of the list averaged about 1 per cent lower. The weakness lasted until 2 p. m. In the closing hour there was a fair recovery, and final prices were considerably above the lowest of the day. Atchison, New York Central and Missouri Pacific closed a fraction higher than on Monday, while the rest of the list averaged ½ to 1 per cent lower. Anaconda Copper closed 3¾ per cent lower.

There was no special news to cause the break, and it was generally regarded as a raid, which was started when money rates reached the maximum. Two large western houses were said to be heavy sellers, and the fact that wheat made a strong rally inclined some traders to ascribe the weakness in stocks to the interpretation which the Chicago traders placed upon the government crop report. The latter was the first of the season relating to the condition of winter wheat. It was not up to expectations based upon private and state reports as to the condition of the crop. It placed the average condition of winter wheat at 89.1, as compared with 91.6 a year ago and 76.5 two years ago. The area planted, however, was estimated at 31,341,000 acres, which with the exception of 1903 is the largest on record. The actual acreage of 1905 was 30,864,000 acres and the actual yield 423,362,000 bushels. Some of the Chicago experts, taking the area as a basis for calculation, placed the indicated yield at 475,000,000 bushels, the highest ever harvested; but nevertheless, the price of wheat advanced a cent.

The only other item of news of the day was the adjournment of the anthracite coal conference until Thursday, and a counter proposition made by the operators in opposition to the suggestion of the miners that all points in dispute be submitted to a board of arbitration.

The local stock market was dull and heavy, and with a few unimportant exceptions prices closed lower or unchanged. Late in the session the marketing of a small amount of Crucible Steel common resulted in a decline to 14¼, and the preferred declined to 79⅞. United States Steel common lost ⅛ per cent, 700 shares selling at 41⅜ to 41. There were no transactions in Pittsburgh Coal common or preferred, and only 45 shares of River Coal preferred changed hands at 23¾. All the Westinghouse issues were neglected. Pittsburgh Brewing common was firm, advancing to 29¼, and Manufacturers Light and Heat rallied to 30⅝. West Penn Railways common declined to 23, while the preferred was firm and unchanged at 77. National Fire Proofing common held steady at 7⅞, but the preferred closed $1 a share lower at 27. In the mining department Ohio Tonopah was weak, and after selling off from 46c to 44c, closed offered at 42c, with 41c bid. The decline was due to reports that the terms of consolidation with the West End property would be less favorable than those published. Cable Consolidated declined to and closed at 70c. Tonopah Extension was quoted ex-dividend of 15 cents a share and closed unchanged at 10¼. The feature in the banking group was an advance of $35 a share in Fidelity Title and Trust, which sold at $550 a share. Fourth National bank declined to 130 and Iron City Trust was unchanged at 121.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The stock market situation may be thus summarized: The enormous volume of traffic and favorable operating conditions are adding real value to railroad stocks, assuring the position of those already on the dividend list, and hastening the day when stocks not yet paying dividends will yield an income to holders. The same is true of the principal industrials. The wealth of the country is increasing and the outlook is favorable. These conditions naturally encourage those who hold stocks for an investment to maintain their position and to buy more, and they likewise encourage speculative operators to buy in the hope of a further rise. But the very conditions which count for increased property values call for a larger use of credits to carry on what is described as legitimate business, as distinguished from purely speculative operations. Under a normal state of the international money market high rates for money and low rates for sterling exchange should attract gold from abroad; but the foreign financial situation is not normal. The war between Russia and Japan resulted in immense issues of new securities. The proceeds of these issues, instead of being invested so as to produce wealth, were used to destroy wealth, and the effect of this destruction has been to impoverish Russia and to cripple Japan. Another result of this war has been to stimulate other nations in strengthening their military and naval position, and in order to carry out this program, immense new issues of foreign government bonds are impending. To create a favorable market for these new issues, foreign bankers are maintaining a firm grip upon their gold. This is particularly true of Paris, which market will bear the heaviest burden in the flotation of new loans. While this situation lasts Wall street will be placed upon short rations, so far as cheap money is concerned, and traders will be forced to forego the natural inclination to buy stocks on the fine commercial and industrial outlook.

The firm resistance hitherto shown by stocks to the stringency in the money market has caused a belief that extensive speculative commitments in stocks must be playing very little part in the expansion of credits which has run up the rate for money. This has been used as an argument to show the strong technical position of the stock market, in spite of the fact that the severest stringency in money had been confined almost wholly to the walls of the stock exchange itself. One explanation is that the operations in the market have been carried on with funds a large proportion of which were borrowed on time at moderate rates of interest, while a small remaining proportion to fill out additional needs was secured in the call loan market with comparative indifference to the temporary high rate exacted there. The unexpected duration of the money stringency, however, adds steadily to the burden of the carrying rate and to the discouragement over the prospect of any public demand for stocks, such as is relied on to relieve the speculators of their holdings at a profit. The growth of this feeling helped to make the market vulnerable yesterday.

Golden Anchor was weak in the local curb market, selling down to 91 a share, 3,000 shares changing hands at that price just before the close of the market.

North Butte was active in the Boston market yesterday, sales footing up 3,417 shares.

The loans of the Imperial Bank of Germany decreased nearly $38,600,000 the past week, due to the completion of quarterly settlements, which are made much more rapidly abroad than in New York.

The Safe Deposit and Trust Company's group of banks, which includes the Peoples National and the Peoples Savings banks, have a combined capital, surplus and profits of over $15,600,000, and assets of over $39,000,000.

While sterling exchange continued to decline so as to widen the margin of profit on engagements of gold for import, the difficulty of securing a supply of the precious metal seemed to grow owing to the scarcity of new arrivals in London, and the keen competition of Paris for the available supply. Another day's loss of nearly $1,000,000 to the New York sub-treasury brought the absorption for the banking week up to $2,158,000 compared with $1,804,000 for the corresponding period of last week.

The United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company has declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent on its preferred stock and 1 per cent on its common stock, payable June 1 to stock of record May 10.

Directors of the Automatic Electric Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable May 1.

The Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on its preferred stock, payable April 30.

The directors of the Amalgamated Copper Company are scheduled to meet on April 19 to act on the quarterly dividend. An advance in the dividend of 1 per cent is considered probable. It is estimated that the company is at the present rate of production and ruling prices for the metal, earning sufficient to pay the present dividend and add at least $1,000,000 a month to the reserve fund.

Gross earnings of Wabash for the first week in April increased $24,776.

The Union Bag and Paper Company reports for the year ended January 31, 1906, net profits of $833,332, an increase of $73,068.

Lack of interest in the bond market is still a noteworthy feature of the financial situation. New York bond houses report some activity of a speculative inquiry, but there is little or no investment inquiry. Naturally, investors do not care to buy bonds with money at such high rates, and until there is a decided fall in the quotations for call money it is fair to presume that the bond business will remain in an apathetic condition. Transactions in bonds on the stock exchange to date are about $160,000,000 below those for the corresponding period of 1905, while the "over-the-counter" business shows a material falling off as well.

PRICES REMAIN FIRM AND DEMAND IS GOOD

Seed Potatoes Are Active, and Quality Is Excellent. Eggs Are Firmer.

Prices still remain firm on the local market. Seed potatoes started to get active yesterday on account of planting time, and quite a demand was noticeable. They are quoted in the best varieties at from $1 to $1 10 per bushel, or from $4 to $4 50 per barrel. The varieties are fine and the demand good.

Jersey sweets are stiffer in price, and will continue to advance until they are practically out of season. They were quoted yesterday at $2 75 and $4 a barrel, which is the high-water mark of the year.

There is some inclination on the part of dealers to put cheese down a fraction of a cent on the pound. This is only applicable to Ohio state cheese and the New York varieties. Eggs are a little stiffer, and Liberty street dealers have put a higher mark on southern varieties.

Field seeds are now in the limelight. It is about planting time, and for the next 30 days there will be an active demand for seeds of all kinds. Some changes were noticeable yesterday, and the market will fluctuate for some time to come. Recleaned alfalfa showed a change yesterday of 75 cents a bushel, advancing that much in a few days.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined yesterday were: Pennsylvania—27 cars hay, 5 corn, 12 oats, 4 feed and 1 rye. Baltimore & Ohio—3 cars oats, 2 corn, 2 hay and 1 straw. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—5 cars hay and 4 oats.

Receipts still continue to be light. Prices remain firm as a result, and often before the goods arrive they are sold. The demand is still good, and there is no relief in sight at this time.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The West End, MacNamara and Ohio Tonopah merger has finally been approved at San Francisco by a majority vote of the stockholders in the companies concerned. Within the next few weeks all of the details of the consolidation will be arranged and a new company organized to take over the combined properties.

The new company is to have a capital stock of 2,000,000 shares, the distribution to be as follows:

	Shares Old stock.	Shares New stock.
West End	600,000	1,000,000
MacNamara	480,000	250,000
Ohio-Tonopah	1,500,000	250,000

This leaves an extra 500,000 shares unallotted, which will be left in the consolidated company's treasury.

The West End Company secures 1,000,000 shares of the new stock in exchange for its 600,000 shares. The MacNamara Company has issued 650,000 shares of its 1,000,000 share capital stock and receives 250,000 shares in the merger. The Ohio Company has its full capital stock outstanding and receives 250,000 shares, although there was a report yesterday that this amount might be reduced.

The West End property has now exposed in its ore claim a 60-foot ledge made up largely of sulphide ore. The MacNamara Company in that part of its territory which is not in dispute is shipping $160 ore.

This combination represents the fourth merger of properties made at Tonopah since the beginning of the camp, four years ago.

The Ohio Company sells its Tonopah ground only, receiving payment in the shape of stock of the West End Consolidated. The Ohio has about three cents a share in the treasury and its Logan mine at Virginia City, which it retains, is said to have 300,000 tons of ore blocked out, averaging $8 a ton, which can be milled at a cost of $5 a ton.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of two of the important mining companies operating properties in the Goldfield mining district, Nevada, the Jumbo Mining Company and the Red Top Mining Company, were held in Phoenix, Ariz., last week. C. Taylor was elected president and general manager of the Red Top Mining Company, J. P. Menardi, vice president; R. L. Colburn, secretary and treasurer, and these, with C. P. Holt and H. L. Taylor, comprise the board of directors. Of the Jumbo Mining Company, C. D. Taylor was named as president and general manager; H. L. Taylor, vice president; C. P. Holt, secretary and treasurer, who with James H. Budd, former governor of California, and T. S. Robinson, form the board of directors.

BOSTON, April 10.—People carrying stocks through this month must expect to pay high interest rates as call money is varying from 8 to 30 per cent. The local traders are realizing this fact and selling stocks all through the list, especially Amalgamated, Union Pacific and a few other high-priced issues, in the local Copper's the depression is not so heavy, but people are getting tired of carrying them. The metal situation could not be better and for any one with the cash we advise purchasing Copper Range, Osceola, Utah and North Butte, but we do not advise the purchase of stocks on margin at the present time.

WHEAT MARKET MAKES ADVANCE IN PRICES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 10.—A sharp advance in wheat here today followed the publication of the government crop report which showed a loss of five points in the condition of fall-sown wheat. The market closed strong, with the May delivery ¾c higher. Corn and oats were changed very slightly and provisions were 5@7½c higher.

Prior to the issuance of the crop report trading in the wheat pit was quiet and because of a general belief that it would declare winter wheat to be in excellent condition, the tone of the market was easy. The weakness was emphasized by lower cables and continued favorable weather in this country for the new crop. However, when the figures declaring the condition of the crop to be 89.1 were posted there was a sudden reversal of sentiment. Traders who had sold short in expectation of an extremely bearish report became active bidders and this caused a quick upturn.

Today's report showed a falling off of five points in the condition of wheat compared with official figures given out last December, when the condition was estimated at 94.1. The market held strong for the remainder of the day on an active general demand. The close was strong, with prices almost at the highest point of the day. May opened ⅛@¼c lower at 77⅞@78c, sold off to 77⅝@77¾c, and then rallied to 78⅛@78c. The close was at 78⅛c. July sold between 77⅜c and 77¼c, and closed with a gain of ⅝@¾c at 77¾@77¼c.

Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 44,000 bushels. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreet's, decreased 490,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 305,000 bushels, against 387,000 bushels for the corresponding day one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 234 cars, against 351 cars last week and 157 cars one year ago.

The upturn in wheat had a strengthening effect on the corn market, prices showing moderate firmness during the last half of the session. Trading, however, was not in large volume. During the early part of the day sentiment was inclined to favor lower prices because of lower cables and improved weather conditions throughout the corn belt. A feature of the early trading was heavy sales of July by a leading concern. The principal buying was by commission houses. The market closed steady and close to the highest prices of the day. May opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 45¾@45⅞c to 46c, sold up to 46¼c and closed at 46¼c. Local receipts were 265 cars, with 12 of contract grade.

Oats were steady all day. The clear weather weakened prices somewhat at the opening, but this was later offset by the strength of wheat. May opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 31½c to 31¾@31⅝c, sold up to 31¾c and closed at 31¾@31⅞c. Local receipts were 189 cars.

Provisions were in active demand and the market was firm all day. There was an especially lively request for lard, which was said to be due to light stocks both in this country and abroad. At the close May pork was up 5c at $16 32½. Lard was 7½c higher at $8 65. Ribs were 5@7½c higher at $8 80.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 19 cars; corn, 126 cars; oats, 92 cars; hogs, 28,000 head.

EXPECTING GOOD PRODUCERS IN THE KEENER SAND POOL

From all parts of the lower southwest fields the reports show nothing better than light wells. In the Keener sand pool, in Tyler county, more good producers are expected in before the close of the week. This is the only district that holds out any incentive for active development work. The deep sand districts are far behind with new production and the prospects for an increase are not promising. No other part of the lower southwest shows so much of a decline in new work and production.

In the Fairview district, Marion county, the Delmar Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the Isaac Ammons farm into the fifth sand and will not have better than a five-barrel pumper. In the same district, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 5 on the M. E. Brookover farm, completed two weeks ago, is holding up at 105 barrels a day. In the Folson district, Harrison county, the same company has drilled its No. 4 on the John Stout farm 24 feet into the stray sand and has no show for a producer at that depth. In the Salem district, the same company has drilled its test on the A. Shilders farm 14 feet into the stray sand and has a very light show of oil. The same company's No. 22 on the L. Haymond farm has filled up 1,500 feet with fluid from the Gordon and will be given a shot today. No. 6 on the A. C. Bailey farm was given a shot yesterday and its production increased to 105 barrels a day. In the Bealls Mills district, Lewis county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the T. R. Reynolds farm through the fifth sand and has a very light show of oil.

On Lynn Camp run, a branch of Leatherbark creek, in Ritchie county, M. G. Zinn & Co. have drilled their No. 4 on the W. H. Sherwood farm through the Berea and have a show for a 20-barrel producer. In the Turkey Foot field, in Hancock county, the Marland Oil Company has completed No. 4 on the A. Marland farm and has a show for a five-barrel pumper. In the Berea grit, in the same district, Sutton Bros. have completed their test on the James Cameron farm and have a light pumper. The same parties have completed a test on the James Peterson farm and have a duster.

On Lost run, Boothville district, Taylor county, J. T. McGraw & Co. have drilled a wildcat on the George W. Reynolds farm through the Big Injun and developed a light show of oil. It will be drilled to the lower sands and if nothing better is found it will probably be tested in the Big Injun. On Dry Fork, Freemans creek district, Lewis county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed a test on the C. H. Lovett farm and has a gasser in the Gordon.

On the Ohio side, in the Lewisville Keener sand development, in Monroe county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its second test on the George Keyser farm through the Keener sand and has a show for a producer good for 150 barrels a day. In the same district, S. B. Longfellow has completed his test on the John McCannon farm and has a duster in the Keener. W. G. Decker has the same kind of luck at his second test on the Elizabeth Fisher farm. In the Clear Fork district, Monroe county, the Tecumseh Oil and Gas Company has drilled its No. 2 on the James McCaslin farm through the Big Injun and has a duster. In the Wolf Creek district, Washington county, Pugh Bros. have drilled their No. 2 on the E. Van Fleet farm through the shallow sand and have a show for a light pumper. In the same district, A. J. Lockhart & Co. have completed their No. 18 on the G. W. Murdock farm and have a show for a five-barrel pumper. The Muskingum Oil Company's No. 27 on the Alexander Mertin farm is not good for more than three barrels a day.

The Burgettstown field, Washington county, Pa., is still furnishing some very good producers. In this district, Kelly Bros. & Cooper have drilled in their No. 3 on the R. C. Vance farm and have a show for a producer, good for 99 or 100 barrels a day. This company has the second largest production of any in the Burgettstown field. Near Georgetown, Beaver county, Thomas C. Dawson has completed his test on the Laughlin-Elliott farm and No. 9 on the Amos Dawson farm and both are showing for very light pumpers. In the Carson pool, in the same county, the Crown Petroleum Company has completed a test on the David Carson farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. The same company has drilled in its No. 5 on the Swearingen heirs' farm and has a show for a five-barrel pumper. In the Karns City district, Butler county, Spohn & Co. have completed a test on the Spohn farm and have a 10-barrel pumper. Rice & Co. have completed a test on the J. B. Caldwell farm and have a very light pumper. Buchman & Co.'s test on the John Glesser farm is showing for a very light pumper.

REPLACES BRIDGE IN FOUR MINUTES

EXTRA WORK AT PITCAIRN

Records for quick work on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad were broken last Sunday morning when the old bridge across Swan creek was removed and the new bridge placed in its correct position in exactly four minutes. Swan creek is on the Philadelphia division, about two miles east of Aberdeen, Md. As soon as the Royal Blue line train crossed the bridge at 10:48 the company's track forces removed the rails at each end of the old bridge. This required four minutes. Then the erectors started their engine and at 10:56 the change of bridges had been made. As soon as the new one was in position, the track forces connected the rails on the approaches to the rails on the bridge. This required about 35 minutes for the westbound track and about 42 minutes for the eastbound track. The total period from the time the track was cut to the time the track was connected up was 42 minutes for the westbound and 50 minutes for the eastbound track.

The old bridge across Swan creek was a double-track truss span of about 115 feet. On account of the extremely heavy traffic over this division it was determined to renew this structure with a plate girder bridge of two spans, one of 80 feet and one of 35½ feet, the abutting ends of these girder spans resting on a pier built under the present structure.

On the west end of this bridge are water tanks between the rails. In order to obtain water engines must run at a fairly high rate of speed. It was impracticable from an operating standpoint to reduce speed, as a reduction would not enable the engines to take water. Usually, during the course of the erection of a bridge of this character, all trains are brought to slow speed so as to insure safety. This made it necessary to erect the new structure on the outside of the old, then attach the two structures together and pull the old one out of place and the new one into the position previously occupied by the old bridge; all preparatory work had to be done without slackening the speed of any trains, and pulling the old structure out and the new one in had to be done between the schedule time of the trains.

The contractor for this work was the Youngstown Construction company of New York. President F. H. Schmidt was among the spectators, his superintendent, H. R. Bricker, directing operations, and Foreman McConnell having charge of forces and all preparations. Among Baltimore & Ohio officers present were Assistant Chief Engineer J. E. Greiner, Assistant Engineer of Bridges and Buildings William Graham and Superintendent H. B. Voorhees.

Among Railroaders on the Go.

Col. Samuel Moody, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west, left for a trip in the west again last evening, he and Passenger Traffic Manager Ford having returned from a week's western visit Sunday. The colonel said the company is gradually extending its passenger department agencies throughout the country west of Pittsburgh.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, was in New York conferring with New York Central lines' officers.

Charles M. Sheaffer, superintendent of passenger transportation of the Pennsylvania, was here from Philadelphia conferring with local officers and shaking hands with his friends.

E. B. Ober, first assistant general freight agent of the Northwestern line at Minneapolis, was here conferring with General Agent Talent.

R. R. Bentley, general baggage agent of the Pennsylvania lines west, is expected home this morning from a round of several weeks in the far west. He attended the annual convention of the American Association of General Baggage Agents.

W. H. Scriven, general agent and superintendent of the Chicago Terminal division of the Pennsylvania Company, was here conferring with General Superintendent Schoyer.

S. L. Gaither, freight solicitor of the Anchor Line at Buffalo, was in the city conferring with Agent W. S. Main.

B. C. Stevenson, assistant general freight agent, and C. F. Wolfe, traveling freight agent of the Clover Leaf, were here conferring with shippers and traffic men.

Beginning to Talk Time Card.

Railroad officers are beginning to talk summer time card. The first Pittsburgh meeting of railroad officers to discuss the change of passenger train schedules was held yesterday in the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie offices. General Manager Yoho and General Passenger Agent Robison went to New York to attend a general time card meeting of all New York lines today, when the through schedules will be considered. It has not been announced when change of time will be made on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie or any other Pittsburgh line, but this will likely come about the second or third Sunday in May. From what can be gleaned now there are to be no radical departures from present schedules on any local roads although improvements will be made. One of the interesting things will be the extension of passenger service from Butler to Bessemer and East Pittsburgh over the Bessemer & Lake Erie's main line.

Progress in Y. M. C. A. Branches.

Progress is being made in such manner toward securing branches of the Young Men's Christian association for the Pennsylvania railroad at Ormsby and the Baltimore & Ohio at Glenwood that the men feel assured that these branches will be established. General Secretary Callender of the Pennsylvania railroad branches at Pitcairn and Twenty-eighth street, said yesterday that plans for a building for Ormsby are now being revised. Mr. Callender expects to be present at the Glenwood mass meeting of Baltimore & Ohio division officers and employes this evening, when the proposition for a branch of the Y. M. C. A. will be considered so as to determine how the employes stand on the subject. The meeting will begin at 1:30 o'clock in the new sawmill building, opposite Glenwood passenger station.

Extra Work at Pitcairn Shops.

An order was issued yesterday from the operating department of the Pennsylvania to place Pitcairn shop men on full time for repairs to loaded cars until all such repairs are completed and the work can be cared for at the usual number of working hours, which are still 25 a week. This extra work at Pitcairn will help the shop men considerably, even though it amounts to but possibly two days of extra work. At the Twenty-eighth street shops and at the office of Superintendent Long it was said yesterday there is no date set, so far as known, for resumption of full time in the Pennsylvania shops.

Panhandle Re-Elects Directors.

Stockholders of the Panhandle, officially known as the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company, yesterday re-elected James McCrea of Pittsburgh, W. H. Barnes of Philadelphia and S. S. Dennis of Newark, N. J., directors for four years. The only other business transacted was the approval of the annual report, details of which have been published. The directors will meet in Philadelphia today for organization. It is expected that the present executive officers will be re-elected.

Complete Two New Engines.

Workmen in the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie shops at McKees Rocks have just completed two out of 10 new switching locomotives to be built at the shops this season. This work is being done by Master Mechanic Redding and his forces under direction of Superintendent of Motive Power Turner. The engines are six-wheelers, weighing 140,000 pounds. The company built several similar engines last year.

New Ticket Seller in Allegheny.

A. M. Shannon of Rochester has been appointed ticket seller at the Federal street station of the Pennsylvania system in Allegheny by Agent H. S. Bare. Mr. Shannon, who succeeds T. W. Watson, was appointed night ticket clerk at Alliance, O., about six years ago, and since that time he has been steadily moving up the line, having been ticket clerk at Salem, O., Beaver Falls and Rochester.

Railroad Notes.

It is said that the New York Central will build a belt railroad around Chicago to connect its line with every other road entering that city.

H. E. Culbertson, engineer of maintenance of way of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania Company, is in a New York hospital receiving treatment for his eyes, which are said to be in a serious condition.

John C. Brackenridge, has been appointed consulting engineer of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad, and will be concerned in the electrifying of the company's lines.

WANTS TO GET ACQUAINTED, BUT ADOPTS WRONG METHOD

"I wanted to get acquainted," was the reason given by Louis Adler to the burgess of Homestead for peeping through windows and frightening women in that borough Monday evening and for several nights previous. Though he modified this statement somewhat by saying that he never tried to advance himself socially in this manner unless he was drunk, he explained as a hint that Homestead ladies did not appreciate this method of being acquainted.

AUCTION SALE OF PENN AVENUE LOT

Women's Christian Association Makes $3,342 by Letting Brokers Bid on No. 956.

A $50,000 SALE FARTHER OUT

The Women's Christian association is $3,342 ahead because its directors decided to let downtown brokers have a chance to bid on its property at 956 Penn avenue, next to Pickering's. Last week it was reported the property had been sold for $85,000 and the name of a prominent downtown broker was connected with the deal. This deal was not closed and yesterday two other brokerage firms, each of whom had a bona fide buyer, got a chance to bid on the property. After lively bidding Avey & Irish secured the property for an investor for $85,842. He will at once remodel the old house on the lot and provide a modern storeroom there. The lot measures 22x110 feet, which makes the present sale at the rate of a little over $4,000 a front foot.

The sale of the John Taylor property, 24x100 feet, at 1139-1141 Penn avenue for $50,000, evidences the growing popularity of that district with investors, as the price reported is the highest ever paid for holdings beyond Eleventh street. This sale is at the rate of $2,083 a front foot, or $20.83 a square foot, a figure that a few years ago would have been regarded entirely out of reason. The present deal is said to have been made direct, but the name of the buyer is not disclosed, although the deal has been articled for several days. A three-story brick store building stands on the front of the Taylor lot. This property is in the same square with the Arnfeld holdings and is nearly opposite the two eight-story warehouses which the Arnfelds are building. Some idea of the way prices have advanced in this immediate locality within a year can be gained from the fact that a few months ago Sachs & Stein bought the Devlin property of the same size in the same square for only $42,000.

S. V. THOMPSON.

Prominent among the brokers who make a specialty of business opportunities is S. V. Thompson, who is the head of the firm of S. V. Thompson & Co., with offices in the Times building. His firm has not only been especially successful in finding buyers and sellers of all sorts of mercantile stands, but has also worked up a good trade in real estate.

The Henry Shenk Company has secured the contract for the erection of the 12-story mercantile building of E. F. Nicola and Wilbur Shenk in Seventh street. It will cover 60x110 feet immediately in the rear of the old Second Presbyterian church lot and will be the first high building of its kind in Pennsylvania and the largest concrete construction building ever erected in the United States. All the upright columns, beams and girders will be made of reinforced concrete, instead of steel, thus eliminating the use of over 1,500 tons of steel in the frame. The site is now being cleared and the building will be ready for tenants by March 1, 1907.

Architect Charles Bickel has been selected to prepare plans for the six-story brick and steel plant which Raymer & Brothers, Incorporated, will build at Forbes and Marion streets on a site recently purchased.

Long List of Machesney Leases.

When the 1906 renting season opened it was freely predicted that much difficulty would be experienced in filling the new Machesney building in Fourth avenue owing to the large amount of office room for rent. The building has been open to tenants only two weeks and more than 70 per cent of the offices have been rented. Ebbert & Cook, who have the task of filling the big building, have not only secured a very desirable lot of tenants for this year, but they have on file enough applications to much more than take all the room that will be available April 1, 1907, when the present leases of the applicants in other buildings will have expired. Among the firms which are taking a suite of rooms in the Machesney building may be noted the following: Pinkerton Detective Agency, which has eight rooms on the eighth floor; Hussey-Binns Shovel Company, five rooms on the ninth floor; Eller & Henry, life insurance agents, four rooms on the 10th floor; William H. Schuette Company, four rooms on the 11th floor; General Chemical Company, five rooms on the 17th floor; Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, three rooms on the 14th floor; American Reserve Bond Company, three rooms on the sixth floor; National Life Insurance Company, four rooms on the sixth floor; George A. Fuller Company, five rooms on the 16th floor; Ebbert & Cook, five rooms on the 18th floor; Lewis Findlay Coal Company, four rooms on the 15th floor. Other concerns which have secured suites of rooms within the last week are: Life Association of America, 17th floor; Large Distillery Company, 14th floor; Parker-Edwards Oil Company, 14th floor; C. M. Harnish, life insurance, fourth floor. The well-known brokerage firm of Morris, Brown & Company, has leased the big first floor room next to the Pittsburgh stock exchange for a long term of years and is fitting it up as one of the finest brokerage homes in the state.

Residents of Castle Shannon, Montooth, Beltzhoover, Bon Air and Knoxville are looking forward with great interest to the time when work will be started on the new Bon Air street car line which, it is said, will be at no distant date. The line as proposed will leave the Mt. Washington tunnel line at the south end of the tunnel, go across Sawmill run and thence to the Bon Air allotment. From Bon Air it will run along Alice and McKinley avenues in New Knoxville and out to Southern avenue, by which it will complete the loop back to the city. This line will bring New Knoxville and the boroughs back of it within 15 or 20 minutes' ride of the city, and will open up a lot of the finest suburban acreage in the county. On the strength of higher values, which are looked for when the line is built, there is going to be considerable house building this spring in the Knoxville extension and the other lot plans which will be tapped by it. A. M. Rahe and Hammel Bros. will build 10 or more houses each in New Rochelle street and New Zara street, Knoxville, and the Summit Improvement Company has plans prepared for 10 brick houses in Summit street to cost $6,000 each.

The Hill Top market house in Bausman street, near Southern avenue, Knoxville, was formally opened yesterday. The building, which cost $40,000, was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants, and the opening brought out a large crowd of future buyers. The building is two stories high and is 63x100 feet. It contains six butcher stands, two butter and egg stands, two stands for poultry, two for bakers, four for fruit, one for flowers, one large grocery, one restaurant and two delicatessen stands. Farm products will be sold in the basement and a fish and oyster stand will also be provided. Joseph M. Wolfe is superintendent of the market. The Hill Top Market Company, which owns the property, has these officers: President Joseph Dieterle; vice president, John Eichert; secretary and treasurer, Joseph M. Wolfe. These men, with John A. Bleichner and L. A. Greenewald, constitute the board of directors.

New Buildings in Ninth Street.

A five-story brick store and warehouse building is to be erected at once on the Arundel lot in Ninth street. This site, which measures 30x116 feet, was formerly a part of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church property owned by McNulty & Gulick, and was sold lately for $74,000. The building will occupy that part of the vacant frontage nearest to Duquesne way and will be completed before January 1.

Francis E. McGillick has bought from Carl Caspel 160x407 feet at the east corner of North Atlantic avenue and Beacon street, Twentieth ward, for $26,000. Part of the frontage is on a hillside, and it is said that Mr. McGillick will improve the plot with 10 brick houses, costing about $4,000 each.

Bartholomew W. Woshner has bought from the estate of John J. Freund a two-story brick building on 22x57 feet at the southeast corner of Carson and South Seventeenth streets, Twenty-eighth ward, for $17,000.

Squirrel hill: Coyle Bros. sold for the Forbes Land Company to E. V. Hay, cashier of the Union Savings bank, lots Nos. 48 and 49, measuring 50x120 and 56x120 feet, in Darlington road near Shady avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $9,000.

Ben Avon: A. Z. Byers & Co. sold for Earl W. Reed to John Henry Walkmeyer a 10-room brick house on 50x110 feet in Church avenue, Ben Avon, for $7,500 for a home.

Allegheny: The John K. Ewing Company sold for D. L. Patterson to John Winter 10 and 12 Ellsworth street, Second ward, Allegheny, two six-room houses on 37.5x65 feet, for $3,500.

Bingham street: Annie L. Leet estate sold to J. F. Donelso an improved lot, 48x120 feet, on the west side of Bingham street, Thirty-second ward, for $4,500.

Race street: George A. West sold to Mary Jane Merter an improved lot, 32x93 feet, on the north side of Race street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $5,500.

Bedford avenue: Elizabeth Potter sold to David Rosenbaum an improved lot, 27x70 feet, on the north side of Bedford avenue, Thirteenth ward, for $3,950.

Sterrett street: Mary M. Spear sold to Robert B. Lean an improved lot, 24x75 feet, on the west side of Sterrett street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,600.

Building permits were issued in Pittsburgh yesterday to Walter Klemm for a two-story brick dwelling on Mathilda street, Twentieth ward, to cost $3,800; John Oehling, two-story frame dwelling on Arlington avenue, Thirty-first ward, to cost $3,000; D. H. Smith two-story frame dwelling on Curtin street, Thirty-eighth ward, to cost $1,650; H. M. Whitzell, two-story frame dwelling on Secane street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $2,950, and C. A. MOTHER AND CHILD.

Let the mother take Scott's Emulsion for the two; it never fails to benefit them both. One can eat for two, but nourishing two is a different thing. It calls for a degree of internal strength that the average woman lacks. People of luxury are not very strong by habit; overworked people are weak in some functions from exhaustion or their surroundings. Scott's Emulsion can be depended upon to overcome such conditions. It is a wonderful food for a mother and child.
